VIRTUAL RESEARCH IN ACTION

Understanding the role fathers play in taking care of their children is an important part of creating successful and healthy individuals, families and communities. Literature, research and parenting education are specifically directed at women, but have we done the same for men?

Join Ashley Rivera, Ph.D., as she talks about:

- The role of men in caregiving
- Inspirations for men to engage in caregiving
- A non-gendered approach to caregiving in families
