This Tony Award-winning play is a rollicking farce set in Brighton, England in 1963 and is loosely based on Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors and Goldoni's Servant of Two Masters. Filled with quick-fire dialogue, and physical comedy, this production promises to keep audiences in stitches from beginning to end.

WHAT'S BEST FOR THE CHILDREN BY IDRIS GOODWIN

APRIL 13 - 28

FAU Theatre Lab presents, What's Best for Children by Idris Goodwin.

Whit Forsyth has just been elected the first Black chairman of the State Schoolboard Committee, about to vote on critical measures on public education. But as he readies for his vote, several groups go to extreme measures to influence his decisions. A zany exploration of ideology and the American education system.

Award-winning storyteller, playwright, poet, arts champion, and Artistic Director of Seattle Children's Theatre, Idris Goodwin brings his offbeat comedy for adults - featuring rap, audience interaction, and incisive exploration of the pressures educators face from all sides - to The Lab for its world premiere production!
