Textbook & materials:

Textbook (required): Carnie, Andrew. (2012). Syntax: A Generative Introduction (3rd edition). Wiley-Blackwell.

All other materials (lecture notes, handouts, etc...) will be posted on Canvas.

FAU Catalog description:

Syntax (LIN 6520) 3 credits Graduate introduction to syntax. Sentence structure, typology, syntactic theory, and the application of theory to data analysis.

Course description:

This course is an introduction to the study of sentence structure, data analysis, and syntactic argumentation. We will study syntactic commonalities and diversity across languages in order to understand more about the mental grammar (and ultimately the brain/mind).

Goals of the course:

The goals of the course include:

- learning about contemporary syntactic theory
- learning how to analyze syntax datasets in a variety of languages
- learning linguistic-specific argumentation

Grading distribution:

The final course grade will be calculated as follows:

Final Project:	50%	(Proposal 15%; Presentation 15%; Final paper 25%)
Assignments:	40%	(5 total; 10% each; drop lowest)
Attendance & participation:	10%

Assignments:

There will be 5 assignments throughout the semester due in class or online via Canvas. I will post assignments 1 week before the due date. They may be done in groups of maximum 3 students, but each student must: (1) Turn in a separate assignment which s/he wrote/typed up individually, and (2) list the student(s) that s/he worked with. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the due date (i.e. at 14:00). Please keep a copy of each finished assignment in case the submitted copy is accidentally lost.

Final Project:

Each student will select a topic related to the course material and in consultation with the professor. This project will consist of (i) a Project Proposal (FP prop.; 10%), (ii) an oral presentation (15%), and final paper (25%). The oral presentation will occur in class time. The final paper will be due in the exam period and will no more than 10 pages (single spaced).

Late submissions:

Late submissions will not be accepted unless you have a documented medical excuse. If you miss an assignment deadline, and you have a certified medical excuse, you must notify me (via email) within 24 hours of the assignment deadline.

Grading scale:

Quiz scores and attendance & participation credit will be calculated as percentages. There will be no rounding of grades beyond the automatic rounding done by Canvas. At the end of the semester, the overall percentage score will be converted into a letter grade as follows:

A	94.0-100%	B-	80.0-82.99%	D +	65.0-69.99%
A-	90.0-93.99%	C+	75.0-79.99%	D	63.0-64.99%
B+	87.0-89.99%	C	73.0-74.99%	D-	60.0-62.99%
B	83.0-86.99%	C-	70.0-72.99 %	F	0%-59.99%

Attendance & participation:

Students are expected to attend all of their scheduled University classes and to satisfy all academic objectives as outlined by the instructor. The effect of absences upon grades is determined by the instructor, and the University reserves the right to deal at any time with individual cases of non-attendance.

Students are responsible for arranging to make up work missed because of legitimate class absence, such as illness, family emergencies, military obligation, court-imposed legal obligations or participation in University-approved activities. Examples of University-approved reasons for absences include participating on an athletic or scholastic team, musical and theatrical performances and debate activities. It is the student's responsibility to give the instructor notice prior to any anticipated absence and within a reasonable amount of time after an unanticipated absence, ordinarily by the next scheduled class meeting. Instructors must allow each student who is absent for a University-approved reason the opportunity to make up work missed without any reduction in the student's final course grade as a direct result of such absence.

Attendance on First Day of Class

Students are required to attend the first day of class for any course in which they are registered. If a student misses the first day of class for any reason, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the course.

NOTE:

This syllabus, including the Calendar, is a guide for the course and is subject to change. All changes will be announced and discussed in class and posted on Canvas. The syllabus should not be considered a substitute for attending class or for any information that is provided to you by your instructor. Please check Canvas regularly for announcements and use it for assignments as indicated. Please keep in mind that you are responsible for having the required materials for class, for checking the syllabus for assignments, and for completing and submitting on time all assignments indicated for that week.

Email policy:

FAU's primary source for correspondence with students is through the student's FAU email. Messages sent by the University may include time-sensitive information regarding student accounts, announcements, and class information. Students are responsible for checking their FAU email on a regular basis and should clean out their email boxes diligently to ensure all mail is delivered. FAU email should never be auto-forwarded to another email account. To access MyFAU and FAU email, visit <http://myfau.fau.edu/>. For issues with logging into MyFAU, contact the OIT Help desk at <http://www.fau.edu/oit/> or 561-297-3999.

When emailing your instructors, please use your FAU account. Messages sent from a personal e-mail account may be classified as junk mail, and therefore may result in no response or a delayed response. FAU e-mail is considered by the university to be official communication, and you should therefore address your instructor appropriately, use a formal writing style, state your name and the course you are enrolled in, and allow at least 24 hours for a response (48 hours on weekends).

Accommodations policy:

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendment Act 2008 (ADAAA), students who require reasonable accommodations due to a disability to properly execute coursework must register with the Student Accessibility Services (SAS)—in Boca Raton, SU 133 (561-297-3880); in Davie, LA 131 (954-236-1222); or in Jupiter, SR 111 (561-799-8585) — and follow all SAS procedures.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) Center

Life as a university student can be challenging physically, mentally and emotionally. Students who find stress negatively affecting their ability to achieve academic or personal goals may wish to consider utilizing FAU's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) Center. CAPS provides FAU students a range of services – individual counseling, support meetings, and psychiatric services, to name a few – offered to help improve and maintain emotional well-being. For more information, go to <http://www.fau.edu/counseling>.

Academic Integrity:

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the university mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive of the university community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. Harsh penalties are associated with academic dishonesty. For more information, see University Regulation 4.001.
