Embodied practice forms an important continuity within the diversity of Buddhism around the world. Explore these somaesthetics connections to ethics, social justice, the arts, and the art of living with an international group of expert researchers. For more information, please visit fau.edu/artsandletters/bodymindculture/uconfern