

7.1.18

Announcement of event

On Monday January 15th, 6:15pm, room 2716 at the Mount Scopus campus in The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, the Humanities Honours Program (Amirim) will be hosting American philosopher Richard Shusterman. Shusterman is a leading philosopher of art and his philosophy of the body plays a significant role in de-absenting the body for Western philosophy. More information regarding Shusterman's work can be found here: <http://www.fau.edu/artsandletters/humanitieschair>

The event will include a screening and a talk, followed by a short interview prepared by students of the program for Professor Shusterman. The event's title is:

"The Philosopher without Words: Philosophy and Performance Art with the Man in Gold"

Students and faculty are warmly invited!

Professor Tzachi Zamir
Dept. of English, Dept. of Comp. Lit
Director of the humanities honours program (Amirim)
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem,
Mount Scopus, Jerusalem, Israel
<https://scholars.huji.ac.il/tzachizamir/home>