I am pleased to welcome you back to live, in-person programming at the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters! We are looking forward to an exciting season of music, exhibitions, theatre, lectures, film and more. You will notice several new programs and newly renovated facilities. I am especially thankful for the renovated University Theatre with its new lights, stage and seating. The new seats are thanks to the generosity of many patrons who named a seat. It's not too late to get in on our 'Dedicate a Seat' campaign. You can learn more about it on page 59 of this brochure.

Mostly, I appreciate you, our patrons. Your attendance at our events sustains the education of the next generation of artists, performers and scholars. Thanks to your nurturing of their developing talents, our graduates soon become the professionals working in Florida and the nation's booming creative industries. And now, as they say, it's on with the show. We can't wait to see you back in our venues as we all enjoy the experience of Arts and Culture in Paradise at FAU.

SOUTH FLORIDA CULTURAL CONSORTIUM VISUAL AND MEDIA ARTISTS FELLOWSHIP EXHIBITION

Schmidt Center Gallery and Ritter Art Gallery

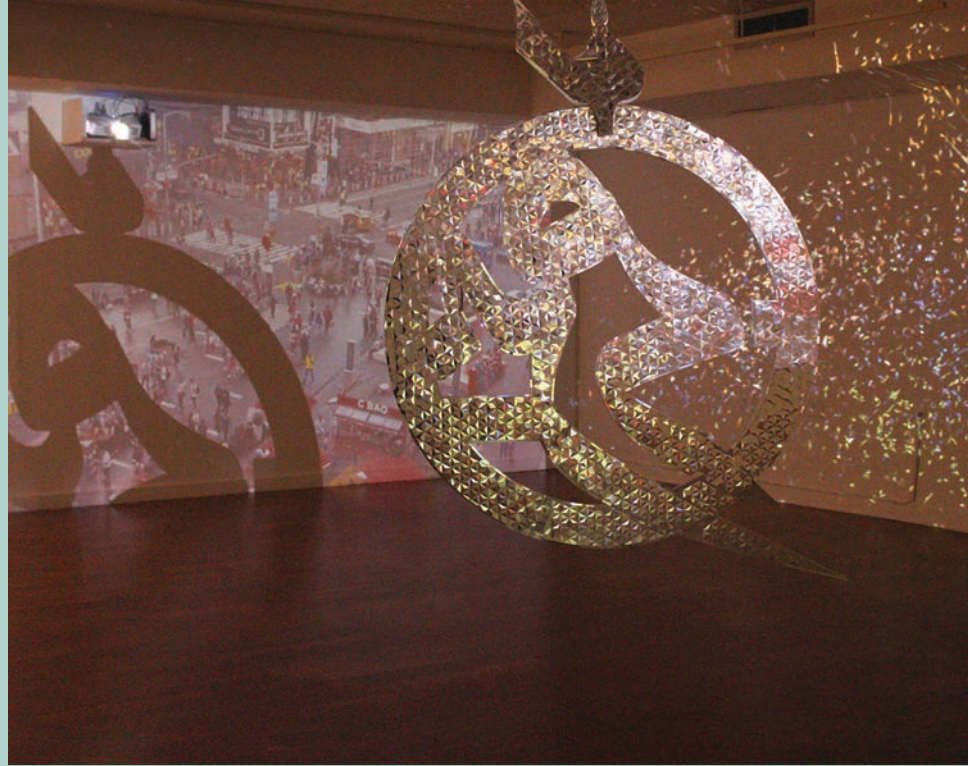

September 10 - October 30, 2021

Opening: September 9, 2021, 6:30 pm

Each year, the South Florida Cultural Consortium awards 12 $15,000 or $7,500 Visual and Media Arts Fellowships. Artists residing in Florida's five southeastern counties are eligible to compete for this nationally significant individual artist award which means the "Consortium" fellowship is hotly contested each year by the region's best visual and media artists. The exhibition presents recent work by the 12 artists awarded a 2021 fellowship and marks the seventh time since 2001 that the University Galleries have had the honor of presenting this prestigious annual contemporary art exhibition. The University Galleries will publish a catalogue to document the exhibition. Artists in the exhibition and their respective counties of residence: Mark Fleuridor, Juan Pablo Garza, Carla Forte, Jared McGriff, Francisco Masó, Yanira Collado, Sasha Wortzel (Miami-Dade); Harumi Abe, Zoraye Cyrus, Catalina Jaramillo (Broward); Sofia Valiente (Palm Beach); Sally Binard (Monroe). The South Florida Cultural Consortium Fellowship program and exhibition are made possible with the support of the Miami-Dade County Department of Cultural Affairs and the Cultural Affairs Council, the Miami-Dade County Mayor and Board of Commissioners.

TEACHING THE OBJECT:

SELECTIONS FROM THE FAU ART COLLECTION

Ritter Art Gallery

January 21 - March 5, 2022

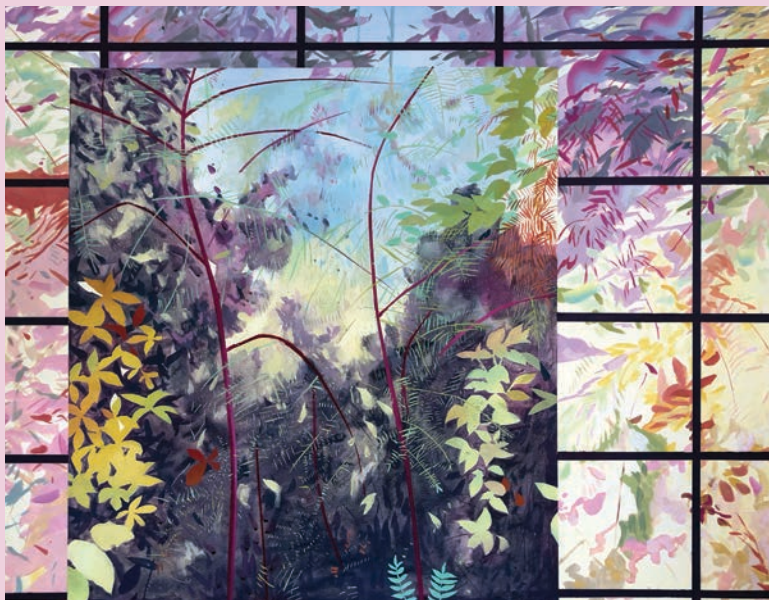

Opening: January 20, 2022, 6:30 pm

In celebration of a gift of works by prominent artists including French painter Henri Matisse, and American Modernists Stuart Davis and Suzy Freylinghuysen, this exhibition acknowledges Rick Stone and Lesley Blackner who provided, in addition to the works, funding to create FAU's Art History Teaching Lab, being inaugurated at the same time. The Lab has also been facilitated by funds from the family of the late artist Tom DiSalvo, several of whose paintings are part of the collection. A number of these will be on view.

While not technically a collecting institution, FAU has been gifted hundreds of works of art in all media, from multiple cultures and time periods. A selection will be on view alongside pieces from the Rick Stone and Lesley Blackner art collection. FAU Art History Professor Karen J. Leader, Ph.D., with her art history students, will curate the idea of a "teaching collection" in a global context. What does it mean to articulate an art historical model that is diverse and representative? And how does having access to works of art to view up close and in person facilitate deep appreciation and rigorous interpretation? The Lab will serve as training ground for students preparing for careers in museums, galleries, and other arts organizations.

WHY SHOULDN'T WE TALK ABOUT THESE THINGS AT THE TABLE?:

A COMMUNITY BASED CONVERSATION WITH SOUTH
FLORIDA ARTISTS

Schmidt Center Gallery

February 18 - April 09, 2022

Opening: February 17, 2022, 6:30 pm

A contemporary art exhibition that looks at the American cultural tradition of not discussing politics, religion and other challenging subjects at the table, through the work of 15 artists residing in South Florida whose work varies greatly in style and media. The title and concept of the exhibition is inspired by conversations between curators AdrienneRose Gionta and Jeanie Ambrosio about the 1922 text by Emily Post, "Etiquette: The Blue Book for Social Usage" which provided the earliest "how-to's" for interacting thoughtfully with others. The curators propose that given our diverse family structures we might consider bending these rules to allow for conversations that bring together an informed and empathetic community as extended family. This discussion begins to take place among the works of: Harumi Abe, John William Bailly, Randy Burman, lou anne colodny, Morel Doucet, Todd Lim, Laura Marsh, Peggy Levison Nolan, Marielle Plaisir, Sri Prabha, Sandra Ramos, Lisa Rockford, Sarah Michelle Rupert, Onajide Shabaka and Michelle Weinberg.

THE ILLUSION By TONY KUSHNER

Directed by Leonard Soroko

The illusion is freely adapted by Kushner from L'illusion Comique by French playwright Pierre Corneille. It is elegantly comedic and genuinely moving story of an old man's search for his long-lost son. The father, facing mortality, desperate to find the son he drove away years before, travels in the dead of night to a mysterious cave. There he engages the services of a wizard, who conjures up visions of the romantic, adventurous, perilous life the son has been living since his father expelled him from home. A wildly entertaining tale of passion and regret, of love, disillusionment, and magic.
