SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR APPROVAL OF HONORARY DOCTORATE NOMINATIONS

PROPOSED BOARD ACTION

Approval of the conferral of Honorary Doctorate on James Patterson.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

University Policy 2.3 (Honorary Doctorates) specifies that those nominated for Honorary Doctorates be recommended to the FAU Board of Trustees by the University Faculty Senate Honors and Awards Committee, the Provost and the President. One candidate is being recommended at this time.

James Patterson has been nominated by Valerie Bristor, Dean of the College of Education, for his outstanding achievements in literature and his contributions in public service. A graduate of Manhattan College and Vanderbilt University, Mr. Patterson has had nineteen consecutive #1 New York Times bestselling novels. He has received many awards for his writing, including the Edgar Awards Mystery Writers of America, Reader's Digest Reader's Choice Award, Mystery Guild's Thriller of the Year Award, International Thriller of the Year Award and Children's Choice Book Award.

It is in the area of reading that Mr. Patterson has contributed much in the area of public service. He is the founder of the James Patterson Page Turner Awards to recognize groups and individuals for spreading the joy of reading. He also established the ReadKiddoread.com website to help adults find books that kids will love. James Patterson Scholarships have been established at Manhattan College, Vanderbilt University and Florida Atlantic University to support students pursuing careers in teaching with special emphasis on reading education.

IMPLEMENTATION PLAN/DATE

If approved, this Honorary Doctorate will be conferred at a future commencement ceremony.

RE: Nomination for Honorary Doctorate Degree -- James Patterson

It is my pleasure to nominate Mr. James Patterson for an honorary doctorate degree from Florida Atlantic University. Mr. Patterson has outstanding achievements in the arts and high distinction in public service.

Mr. Patterson received his B.A. in English from Manhattan College and his M.A. in English from Vanderbilt University. His first novel, The Thomas Berryman Number (1976), won an Edgar Award. According to his publisher, Mr. Patterson has sold more than 150 million books worldwide.

Mr. Patterson has received the Mystery Writers of America Award for Best First Novel (1977), the Reader's Digest Reader's Choice Award for Fiction Writing (2003), the BCA Mystery Guild's Thriller of the Year Award (2005), International Thriller of the Year ThrillerMaster Award (2007), and Children's Choice Book Award for Author of the Year (2010).

Mr. Patterson has contributed much in the area of public service. He is the founder of the James Patterson PageTurner Awards which rewarded groups and individuals for creative and effective ways of spreading the joy of reading. Mr. Patterson has also established ReadKiddoread.com, his website which helps adults find books that kids will love. In addition, he has donated thousands of books to troops overseas.

Mr. Patterson has also established James Patterson Scholarships at Manhattan College, Vanderbilt University, and Florida Atlantic University, which provides scholarship support to future teachers in an effort to strengthen his mission to get children excited about reading.

Mr. Patterson has sustained achievement of lasting significance, and I strongly recommend Mr. Patterson for this honor. I have attached a "Biography," related media documents, and a letter of support with this memo. If you need additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you for your consideration.

It is with great pleasure and enthusiasm that I would like to recommend the author, James Patterson, for an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Mr. Patterson's accomplishments as a writer are extensive and provide evidence of outstanding achievements in his field. Additionally, he has also established himself as a writer interested in influencing the development of students who are readers and writers. To this end, he has partnered with several universities to develop scholarships that support the promotion of literacy. Recently, the Patterson Reading Scholars scholarship was established within Florida Atlantic University's College of Education. This scholarship will provide the groundwork for a program that develops strong teachers who will be on the forefront of preparing students for literacy success within local school districts.

Mr. Patterson's literary accomplishments are unmatched. As an author, Mr. Patterson has written 19 consecutive #1 New York Times best selling novels and was the first author to have #1 titles simultaneously on the Times adult and children's best sellers list. His work has reached audiences across the world. He has authored over 630 works that appear in over 4,200 publications and in 40 languages.

Mr. Patterson has funded numerous scholarships to support future teachers who will make an impact in literacy education at several institutions across the country. His most recent scholarship has been established in the Department of Teaching and Learning and Florida Atlantic University. Other universities that are the recipients of Patterson scholarship funding include Manhattan College, Vanderbilt University, the University of Wisconsin, Appalachian State University, and Michigan State University.

Mr. Patterson's work has crossed genres in literature and has reached audiences both young and old worldwide. He is truly a pioneer in his field and is dedicated to making an impact on developing literacy skills in children through the avenue that will influence the most, teacher training. I believe 2nd Chance reconvenes the Women's Murder Club, four friends (a detective, a reporter, an assistant district attorney, and a medical examiner) who used their networking skills, feminine intuition, and professional wiles to solve a baffling series of murders in 1st to Die. This time, the murders of two African Americans, a little girl and an old woman, bear all the signs of a serial killer for Lindsay Boxer, newly promoted to lieutenant of San Francisco's homicide squad. But there's an odd detail she finds even more disturbing: both victims were related to city cops.

4th of July : a novel by James Patterson(Book)

68 editions published between 2004 and 2009 in 13 languages and held by 3,741 libraries worldwide

After losing one of its own, Lindsay Boxer and the Women' Murder Club make a courageous return for their fourth and most chilling case ever--one that could easily be their last. A young girl is killed in crossfire after a routine arrest goes terribly wrong, and Lt. Lindsay Boxer has to defend herself against a charge of police brutality. In a landmark trial that transfixes the nation, Lindsay fights to save her career and her sanity. While awaiting trial, Lindsay escapes to the beautiful town of Half Moon Bay, but the peaceful community there is reeling from a string of unspeakable murders. Working with her friends in the Women's Murder Club, Lindsay finds a link between these killings and a case she worked on years before--an unsolved murder that has haunted her ever since. As summer comes into full swing, Lindsay battles for her life on two fronts: before a judge and jury as her trial comes to a climax, and facing unknown adversaries who will do anything to keep her from the truth about the killings--including killing again. It all comes to a head before the big annual 4th of July celebration on the waterfront at Half Moon Bay.
