FY24 Q2 REVENUES

FY24 Q2 REVENUE BUDGET TO ACTUALS

FY24 Q2 E&G REVENUE

E&G REVENUE CATALYSTS

Fall and Spring tuition revenue has seen significant growth from FY23 to FY24, increasing from $134.4 million to $153.9 million. This change represents a substantial 14.5% year-over-year increase in Fall and Spring tuition. Initially, this growth was mainly attributed to the rise in out-of-state credit hours, while in-state credit hours were declining. However, the trend has shifted, with both in-state and out-of-state credit hours experiencing year-over-year increases.

FY24 Q2 E&G REVENUE

E&G REVENUE CATALYSTS

Through the first half of the year, FAU has seen an increase in state appropriation revenue. This additional funding encompasses 12.6M of the 25.2M awarded for performance-based funding, 2.1M of the 4.3M awarded for the expansion of College of Nursing enrollment, and 5.0M of the 10.0M awarded for investments in faculty recruitment and retention.

FY24 Q2 AUXILIARY REVENUE

AUXILIARY REVENUE CATALYSTS

Over the past year, auxiliary revenue has demonstrated a steady upward trend, marking an increase of $4.4 million compared to the previous period. This growth can be largely attributed to the sustained success of the College of Business executive degree programs, which have played a pivotal role in driving revenue expansion by contributing $2.8 million to the overall increase. The excellence and popularity of these programs have consistently attracted students, resulting in continued success.

Additionally, student health services shows an increase in revenue by an additional $1.4 million as more students elected an advantageous third-party insurance with more affordable rates.

FY24 Q2 CONTRACTS & GRANTS REVENUE

Contracts and grants revenue has experienced significant fluctuations over the past 5 years in Q2. These fluctuations are largely due to the substantial drawdown of Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) revenue, which peaked during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic. In FY22 Q2, there was a notable drawdown of $48.0 million in HEERF funds, leading to an inflated reported revenue figure for that quarter.

Sponsored research revenues in Q1-Q2 are not indicative of growth, current sponsored research Q1-Q3 figures reveal an increase of $7M from FY24 ($53 million) over FY23 ($46 Million).

FY24 Q2 EXPENSES

FY24 Q2 EXPENSE BUDGET TO ACTUALS

Board of Trustees Financial Update

FY24 Q2 E&G EXPENSE

EXPENSE ANALYSIS

In Q2, Florida Atlantic University (FAU) has observed a consistent increase in Education & General (E&G) expenditures, particularly notable in the salaries and benefits accounts. This uptick is primarily attributed to FAU's sustained investment in human capital, which commenced with a 4.0% staff compensation increase earlier in fiscal year 2024.

FY24 Q2 AUXILIARY EXPENSE

E&G EXPENSE CATALYSTS

Auxiliary enterprises, being self-supported units, prioritize prudent expense management. Notably, they maintained a spend rate below 50% of the budget as Q2 concluded. Despite this, there was a year-over-year increase in spending by $3.2 million. This rise is attributed to escalated student food services expenses, expanded student health services costs, and various miscellaneous expenditures, including repairs and renovations in traffic and parking infrastructure.

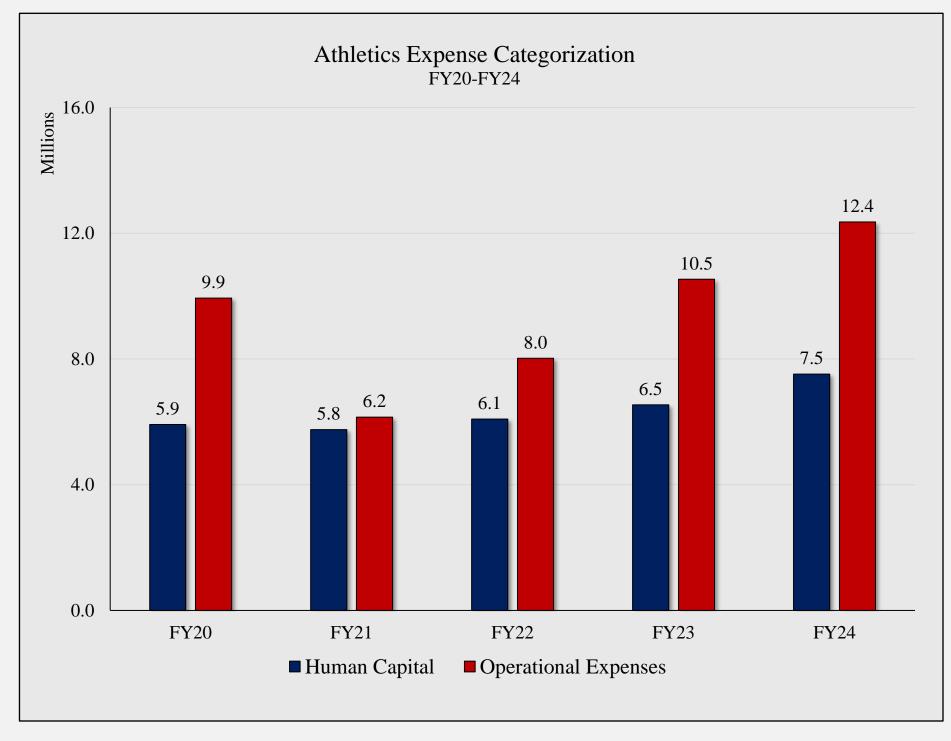

Over the past five years, Q2 expenses have shown a gradual upward trend, with an exception seen in FY20 due to heightened spending related to the construction of FAU's Schmidt Family Complex for Academic and Athletic Excellence.

FY24 Q2 ATHLETICS EXPENSE

ATHLETICS EXPENSE ANALYSIS

In Q2 of this fiscal year, university athletics have seen a $2.8 million increase in expenditures compared to Q2 of the previous fiscal year. This rise in spending is primarily due to a transition in conferences, elevating from C-USA to the American Athletic Conference. Areas of investment include a production trailer capital purchase, increased streaming expenses, and equipment enhancements.

Although these expenses have increased the athletics department's spend rate compared to its budget, their financial activity is expected to align with the budget by the end of the year, as the department operates as a self-supporting unit.
