AC: A-1. Approval and Adoption of the Office of Compliance

Ms. Morgan Kim, Chief Compliance Officer, addressed the board by discussing the corresponding responsibilities of the charter and Chief Compliance officer. Last May 2017, the compliance committee discussed their charter which includes 4.002 and 4.003 which governs the chief officer. This charter specifically is geared towards the Chief Compliance officer's responsibilities. It is approved every three years. Trustee Stilley asked how the office came up with this specific charter. She discussed that she did a thorough process in making sure that what FAU's charter contains reflects common threads from other universities including best practices. Trustee Stilley then asked if there are any significant differences between us and other universities. She responded that each charter is tailored to the needs of each university. Vice Chair Moabery asked how the charter will keep up with the strategic plan. Ms. Kim answered by saying that the office is building up the infrastructure to ensure that both the charter and the growth of the university work together and not apart.
