FAU’s Dade campus is located on 38 acres in western Broward County and is the University’s second-largest campus after the Boca Raton campus. The Dade campus serves FAU students since 1990 with 2+2 program working in close partnership with state colleges and other educational institutions. Building 19 on a 386-acre college as a freshman and transfer to FAU to complete a four year degree in over 27 disciplines. Graduate programs in educational public administration, and business are available on the Dade campus as well.

The FAU campus in downtown Fort Lauderdale is part of an evolving, dynamic urban community that provides a laboratory for the professional degree program in architecture. The School of Architecture is situated in the Florida Atlantic University/Broward College Higher Education Complex on Las Olas Boulevard.

Search FAU’s Institute for Ocean and System Engineering is located in Orange Beach on eight acres between the Atlantic Ocean and the Intracoastal Waterway with access to the ocean and shoreline. SeaTech builds on and complements the academic programs of the Department of Ocean and Mechanical Engineering and forms the means for technology advancement, collaboration with academia, industry, government, and transition of research projects to applications.
