

The Chairperson's Message

By Dr. Irene Johnson

I often hear the comment "I don't have time" or "that will take too much time to do" during conversations with students, colleagues, and friends. Counseling professionals typically counsel clients on issues related to time management. Recently I found a document that I have had for a long time in my "inspiration" file. I would like to share it with you and hope you will include it in your sources of inspiration. Have a good semester break!

T I M E

Imagine there is a bank which credits your account each morning with $86,400, carries over no balance from day to day, allows you to keep no cash balance, and every evening cancels whatever part of the amount you had failed to use during the day.

What would you do? Draw out every cent, of course! Well, everyone has such a bank. Its name is TIME. Every morning, it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it writes off, as lost, whatever of this you have failed to invest to good purpose. It carries over no balance. It allows no over draft. Each day it opens a new account for you. Each night it burns the records of the day. If you fail to use the day's deposits, the loss is yours. There is no going back. There is no drawing against the "tomorrow." You must live in the present on today's deposits. Invest it so as to get from it the utmost in health, happiness and success! The clock is running. Make the most of today.

-To realize the value of ONE YEAR, Ask a student who has failed his exam.

-To realize the value of ONE MONTH, Ask a mother who has given birth to a pre-mature baby.

-To realize the value of ONE WEEK, Ask an editor of a weekly newspaper.

-To realize the value of ONE DAY, Ask a daily wage laborer who has ten kids to feed.

-To realize the value of ONE HOUR, Ask the lovers who are waiting to meet.

-To realize the value of ONE MINUTE, Ask a person who has missed the train.

-To realize the value of ONE SECOND, Ask a person who has survived an accident.

-To realize the value of ONE MILLI-SECOND, Ask a person who has won a silver medal in the Olympics.

Treasure every moment that you have, treasure it more because you shared it with someone special; special enough to have your time...and remember: "Time waits for no one." Thank you for sharing your most precious gift, the gift of your time.

Student Success Skills Summer Institute 2011

June 20, 2011 9:00 am - 3 pm

REGISTRATION FORM

School counselors are in the student success business. Student Success Skills (SSS) can help your students in grades 4-10 improve standardized math scores equal to one year of additional learning and reading scores equal to one half year of additional learning. Five published peer-reviewed SSS studies detail consistent positive results with over 50 school counselors and 1,400 students in 40 schools. The SSS program aligns directly with the ASCA model and is based on foundational learning, social and self-management skills identified as crucial to student success.

The SSS approach uses the Max/Min principle: Maximum improvement with minimum time. Five 45 minute lessons spaced one week apart give your students 20 SSS learning strategies they can use to a) master the regular curriculum, b) stay cognitively and behaviorally engaged and c) improve classroom climate and d) increase motivation and confidence which helps them persist when learning new information. This hands-on workshop includes demonstrations, practice, and discussion. You will leave confident and energized about delivering SSS to your students. Your students will love it and so will you!

Participants will learn:

- How to teach key cognitive, social, and self-management strategies
- How to increase student self-efficacy and healthy optimism which fuels their motivation and effort to succeed.
- How to improve students' memory skills.
- How to help students develop skills to manage performance anxiety.
- How to help students build caring, supportive and encouraging classroom communities.

Over 9,000 school counselors and teachers and 1,000,000 students have used the SSS program. Workshop includes: The SSS Classroom Manual (2010) by Greg Brigman & Linda Webb
