Biography

Dr. Andrew Brewer, Associate Director for Academic and Assessment Support, for the Department of Teaching and Learning (DTL) in Florida Atlantic University (FAU)'s College of Education (COE) began his new role in August 2013. In this position, he is the key support for helping the department move seamlessly through its next accreditation. He is tasked with looking at the data to determine what it tells about DTL students and programs. Having joined the University in 2004 as a Core Teaching Instructor, Dr. Brewer was promoted to Visiting Instructor in 2005 and to Assistant Professor in 2006. He served as Social Studies Education Program Coordinator from 2006 to 2007 and as Acting Social Studies Education Coordinator from 2007 to 2013. Dr. Brewer became Associate Director of Academic and Assessment Support in 2013.

Dr. Brewer received the 2008-2009 Excellence and Innovation in Undergraduate Teaching award from FAU's COE. Dr. Brewer accepted the Literacy Alive! 2011-2012 Gold Achievement Award on behalf of Kappa Delta Pi's Omega Chapter, where he served as co-counselor from 2009 to 2012. Dr. Brewer served as a Representative on the COE Faculty Senate during the 2012-2013 school year. Presently, he serves as DTL representative on the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) Standard 2 Committee since 2010, Secondary Teacher Education Coordinating Committee (STECC) since 2005 and the COE's Faculty Assembly since 2008.
