Office of International Programs invites you to Study Abroad

Antigua, Guatemala

Spring Term
Program 1: February 20 – February 27, 2016
Program 2: February 27 – March 5, 2016

Students in this program will benefit from an immersion into the rich culture of Guatemala by interacting with the underserved populations of indigenous Maya and rural Guatemala. There are opportunities to learn medical and nursing Spanish while experiencing the beauty of Guatemala. Students will also have an opportunity to earn clinical and conference practicum hours in primary care with persons of a different culture. Students will also learn about their healing practices, while offering valuable service to the community through the teaching of health and wellness promotion and prevention of illness and disease.

Academic Program: Study of advanced practice nursing role and situations in practice with childbearing/childrearing families and adolescents/adults/older adults in context of community.

Eligibility Requirements: FAU Nurse Practitioner students enrolled in either NGR 6619L, NGR 6607L or NGR 6200L and with an overall GPA of 3.0 or higher.

Courses:
- NGR 6619L Primary Care of Families Practicum
- NGR 6607L Comprehensive Care Adolescent through Older Adults
- NGR 6200L Advanced Nursing Situation Practicum: Foundations of Care
