GRADUATE STUDENT ORIENTATION

BE DARING. BE bold. BE FAU
Dear Graduate Student,

Congratulations on your admission to graduate school!

Whether you are a new student, or a returning student, welcome to Florida Atlantic University. The information found in this packet will be a valuable resource for you during your graduate studies at FAU.

Pursuing a graduate degree is unlike the undergraduate experience. There are unique regulations and customs graduate students must follow in order to complete their degree, and the Graduate College plays a critical role in this process.

This packet includes information on a range of topics, some of which will be of immediate use; others will be more relevant as you progress through your degree program. I encourage you to visit our website at fau.edu/graduate often to stay current on important updates for graduate students.

Other resources such as the online University Catalog will also be helpful as you learn more about requirements to complete your degree. Should you have questions or concerns, the Graduate College staff is here to assist you.

I wish you success as you advance through your graduate degree at FAU. The journey may be challenging at times, but the rewards will certainly be worth the effort.

Sincerely,

Dr. Deborah L. Floyd
Dean and Professor

Bookstore

Barnes and Noble operates bookstores on the Boca Raton and Davie campuses; the Jupiter campus bookstore is a pop-up location with certain days/hours during the semester. Students may purchase academic materials or FAU athletic apparel either on campus or online. Additional information about the campus bookstores is located at: http://fau.bncollege.com/.

Night Owls

Are you on the Boca Raton Campus late at night and walking alone? Contact Night Owls to help you get safely to your car or class. The Night Owls program was created by the Student Government to promote student safety on campus after dark. This program (separate from campus police) employs trained students to help ensure the safety of those on campus at night. The Night Owls program is operated between 7:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. Call Night Owls at (561) 297-NOWL (6695) to have someone safely escort you to your destination.

On-Campus Employment

There are a number of opportunities for graduate students to work on campus. Interested students should check with Human Resources, Student Employment, the Financial Aid Office and their individual departments. To be eligible for work-study positions, a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form must be completed. Many departments offer graduate assistantships (research, teaching, and general graduate assistantships) for their graduate students; refer to page 20 for more information on assistantships.

Email

All FAU students are assigned an FAU email address. Please note the FAU email address is the official email address and the ONLY email address utilized by the University for communication with students. Students should check their FAU email address on a regular basis AND confirm storage space is available to receive email. Student email can be accessed through the following link: https://myfau.fau.edu/.
Change of Address

Students are responsible for maintaining current address information for communication with the University. Students may also specify whether they want their information released to the directory. The Office of the Registrar coordinates student address changes:

- Please submit all address changes to the Office of the Registrar.

Registration

The preferred method of registering for classes is online. The online schedule of classes shows the course availability and can be accessed through either of these websites:

When registering, keep the following in mind:

- Early registration means greater course availability.
- Administrative holds must be cleared prior to registering and can only be cleared by the FAU office that issued the hold. Be sure you contact the appropriate office for assistance in removing registration holds.
- Students with outstanding fees will not be allowed to register until payment is rendered.

For information regarding deadlines to pay tuition/fees or last day to add/drop courses without being fee liable, visit the Controller’s Office website at: http://www.fau.edu/controller/student_information/.
Traffic and Parking Tips

All FAU students, faculty and staff are required to have a parking decal to park at any FAU campus. Parking decals and permits are only available online through MyFAU. The link to Parking and Transportation is found under the Money Matters! tab in MyFAU: https://myfau.fau.edu/. Visit the department website for additional information: http://www.fau.edu/parking/.

Note: Students should wait at least 24 hours after registering before purchasing a parking decal.

With a student population of over 30,000, finding available parking can be a challenge. The following tips will help make parking on campus easier:

- Allow adequate time to park and walk to your destination, as parking lots can fill up fast (especially during the fall and spring semesters).
- Be flexible in your choice of parking locations. Don’t pick a “favorite” parking spot and always go to that location. Know your options regarding on-campus parking and always have a back-up plan.
- Be willing to walk a moderate distance to get to class.
- Pick a central location and park for the day. Driving around campus between classes searching for parking can be stressful. Once you’ve found a parking spot, plan on leaving your car there and walk from building to building to attend your classes. Your heart will benefit from both the exercise and the reduced stress!
- Know which parking lots are available to students. Most of the parking lots on the main FAU campus are “All Decal” lots and can be utilized by anyone with a current parking decal. Look for blue signage to identify the “All Decal” lots.
- Use the OWL Express Shuttle Service when on the Boca Raton campus: www.fau.edu/parking/owlexpress.php.
- Blue Light Phones. For emergency help of any kind, do not hesitate to use the Blue Light phones mounted on bright yellow poles. Blue Light phones are located in all parking lots and throughout each FAU campus.
- Keep your cool. The most important thing to remember when parking on any campus is to stay calm; there will be days you have trouble finding parking or somebody takes “your” parking place.
Traffic and Parking Tips

Following are campus-specific parking tips for Davie, downtown Ft. Lauderdale, Jupiter and Boca Raton (main) Campuses.

Davie

The Davie campus has two entrances: College Avenue (main entrance) and Davie Road entrance. The College Avenue entrance offers the closest access to the FAU buildings with parking lots available on both sides of the road from the College Avenue entrance. If the parking lots are full, continue east to the overflow area to locate additional parking.

Traffic and activity on the Davie campus peaks Monday through Thursday before and after the following class times:
- 9:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m.
- 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.
- 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Downtown Ft. Lauderdale

Parking is available in the City of Ft. Lauderdale parking garage on the seventh floor. The parking garage can be accessed from either the SE First Avenue entrance or the SE Second Avenue entrance. After 5 p.m., student parking is available at the ground-level lot accessed from the SE First Avenue entrance. Mondays are the busiest days for traffic and activity at the downtown Ft. Lauderdale campus. A valid OWL card is required to gain entrance to the parking garage and parking lot.

Jupiter

The city of Jupiter hosts several special events during the year that impact traffic around the Jupiter Campus. During special events such as Arti-Gras, the Italian food festival, classic car and bike shows, and spring training at Roger Dean Stadium, traffic becomes very congested around Parkside Drive, Central Boulevard, and Main Street and is occasionally re-routed. It is best to allow additional time to get on and off campus during these special events.

The Jupiter campus’ Lifelong Learning Society (LLS), fau.edu/llsjupiter holds several sessions during the academic year and has an impact on parking. Allow additional time to locate parking during the times the Lifelong Learning Society is in session.
Traffic and Parking Tips

Boca Raton

The Boca Raton Campus has five entrances. Instead of joining the daily crowd at the Glades Road entrance every day, head for one of the other entrances located at NW 13th Street, NW 20th Street, or Spanish River Boulevard. The least-used entrance is the two-lane road just east of the main Glades Road entrance — it is adjacent to the pond and fountain.

Additional tips for parking on the Boca Raton campus:

- Use the OWL Express Shuttle Service. Parking and Transportation provides a free shuttle service on the Boca Raton campus, making several stops along the campus perimeter.
- Try to avoid the area around the A.D. Henderson University School during peak traffic times. The school is located on the east area of the campus near the 20th Street entrance. Traffic peaks from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. and again from 2:15 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. daily.
- The parking lots closest to the classroom buildings fill quickly. However, parking is often available in parking lot 5 — the long, narrow lot on the north side of campus, across from Palm Beach Community College.
- Avoid parking lots 15 and 16, unless you have to transact business in the Student Support Services building. Parking lots 15 and 16 are always crowded because of the number of people who frequent the Student Union and the large number of employees who work in the Student Support Services building and the Student Union.
Graduate Student Requirements

The graduate student experience is different from that of an undergraduate student. It is important for graduate students to manage their academic careers and stay knowledgeable about current graduate requirements and guidelines. It is beneficial for students to familiarize themselves with these requirements early in their course of study. Doing so enables students to progress seamlessly toward their degrees while maintaining full compliance with University graduate student requirements. For assistance with graduate policies, please contact your academic department or the Graduate College.

Academic Policies and Regulations

There are a number of University regulations that govern graduate education at FAU. The online University Catalog is the most comprehensive resource regarding University, college-specific, and graduate degree program information. At a minimum, graduate students should review “Additional Policies for Graduate Students” under Academic Policies & Regulations and “Graduate Degree Requirements” within the Degree Requirements section. These sections can be found under the catalog’s General Information section. Visit the Registrar’s website at fau.edu/registrar to access the University Catalog.

Continuous Enrollment: Graduate students are required to enroll for at least 1 credit during at least two semesters (fall, spring, or summer) of every academic year in order to remain eligible for their degree. Students who have been admitted to candidacy normally should enroll in the thesis or dissertation course in their departments. Those who have not yet been admitted to candidacy, but do not need to take additional courses, should enroll in an appropriate Directed Independent Study (DIP) course or Advanced Research course.

Satisfactory Academic Performance and GPA: To remain in good academic standing, each graduate student at Florida Atlantic University must maintain a satisfactory record. For all graduate students, a satisfactory record is defined as an average of “B” or higher on all work attempted (3.0 on a 4.0 scale) at Florida Atlantic University by the end of the second term of enrollment and all subsequent terms. This is the minimum requirement necessary for a graduate degree at Florida Atlantic University.

Note: Individual degree programs may have stricter requirements for maintaining satisfactory academic performance and these requirements must be met. There is also no grade forgiveness policy for graduate students.

Reency of Credits (10-Year Rule): No credit that is more than ten years old at the time the Florida Atlantic University graduate degree is awarded may be counted toward that degree. Credits transferred into or applied to an FAU program are considered earned in the first semester of enrollment at FAU.
Honor Code, Irregularities, and Student’s Academic Grievances

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of ethical standards as it interferes with the University mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive to the University community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. Students with a grievance against an instructor regarding academic matters should follow the Academic Grievance Procedure under the Academic Policies and Regulations section of the University Catalog.

Plan of Study

After enrolling in a degree program at FAU, all degree-seeking students are required to complete a Plan of Study (POS) online. A POS is a list of all courses that a student is required to take in order to meet the requirements for their degree. It serves as a contract between the student and FAU by clearly communicating the courses needed to obtain their graduate degree. Typically, a POS is submitted no later than halfway through their required coursework and before enrolling in thesis/dissertation credits, if applicable. Students must have an approved POS on file with the Graduate College prior to the term in which they intend to graduate. All students receive electronic confirmation when their POS is approved by the Graduate College.

Plans of Study are submitted online through the MyPOS system. To access the online MyPOS system:

1. Log in to your MyFAU account: https://myfau.fau.edu/cp/home/displaylogin.
2. Click on the Graduate College Tab in top row.
3. Click on the MyPOS button at the top left.
4. Follow the prompts.

The Degree Completion staff at the Graduate College can answer your questions about MyPOS. Email graduatesupport@fau.edu for assistance.

Assistantships

Graduate Assistantships are a way for graduate students to finance their educational studies at Florida Atlantic University. Assistantships are intended to attract high quality, degree-seeking students and provide them with professional experiences while at FAU that will prepare them for their future work. For a position to be classified as a graduate assistant and for the employee to be eligible for tuition benefits, the duties performed must directly contribute to the graduate student’s program of study. The graduate assistant must perform duties under the supervision of at least one faculty member and/or University employee experienced in the discipline.

The University offers assistantships to enrolled, degree-seeking graduate students as follows:

- Graduate Teaching Assistantship (GTA): Graduate Teaching Assistants are responsible for assisting faculty members with teaching, course preparation, grading assignments, and activities related to the student’s academic program such as, but not limited to, teaching an undergraduate level course, co-teaching, tutoring, being a classroom assistant or teaching lab assistant, or other roles directly related to classroom or laboratory instruction.

- Graduate Research Assistantship (GRA): Graduate Research Assistants perform research duties under the supervision of an appropriate faculty member or FAU administrator. Such research duties may include, but are not limited to, assisting in lab research, community-based research activities, developing research and evaluation surveys, collecting data, analyzing data using software analysis programs, data presentation, and/or writing draft research reports. For some Graduate Research Assistant positions, special qualifications may be required, such as completion of a specified number of graduate credit hours or a master’s degree or specialization in an appropriate area of research.

- Graduate Assistantship (GA): Graduate Assistants may be employed in any administrative unit of the University that performs professional duties outside of teaching or research assignments. Duties performed must directly contribute to the graduate student’s program of study. It is the responsibility of the hiring unit to ensure duties of the position complement the degree program; however, for students employed in non-academic offices, prior approval by the Dean of the Graduate College is required.

The process of obtaining an assistantship is competitive. Assistantships are available in many academic departments and administrative offices, although availability varies by the field of study, type of degree, and degree level. Students interested in applying for an assistantship should contact their graduate programs directly. Some general assistantship opportunities may be posted on the FAU Graduate College’s Facebook Page and on the Human Resources Employment Opportunities Page.

Compensation for assistantships includes a partial or full tuition waiver and a stipend. For more information about graduate assistantships, please see the Tuition Benefits Policy for Graduate Students, http://www.fau.edu/graduate/tuition-benefits/index.php.

Important Note: Tuition waivers may reduce financial aid awards and it is the student’s responsibility to notify the Office of Student Financial Aid.
