Experiential Group & Process Journal 20
Final Exam 25
Total Points 100

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Class Attendance and Participation (10%)

Class attendance is essential to gain course competencies and integral for the development of a comprehensive framework for group counselor skills. Therefore, it is mandatory that students participate in every class and group session. If for any reason a student cannot attend they are to contact the instructor in advance to obtain course work for that week's session. An unexcused absence will result in a (10%) grade reduction. Excessive tardiness is disruptive and disrespectful of the instructor and fellow classmates and may also impact your final grade.

Laptop use must be restricted to note taking and relevant course work. Students violating this practice will lose the privilege of utilizing their laptop in class. Cell phones should be utilized only in the event of an emergency. I have every confidence that the students in this course are professionals and that penalization or enforcement of these guidelines will not be required.

Student Led Discussions (30%)

Group work is an extremely important and diverse modality in the field of counseling. This course provides an opportunity for immersion into complex yet voluminous topics. To maximize exposure to the Yalom text each student will be responsible for leading group discussion on a sub-section of chapters throughout the semester. A list of reading assignments will be provided and students will be randomly selected to choose a topic.

Mid-Term Exam (15%)

The exam will be open book and notes; however you are required to work independently and it will be timed. The exam will cover content through Week 8 excluding the theories introduced Week 4.
Experiential Group & Process Journal (20%)

Arrangements have been made for a group counseling experience for members of this class. This will provide students with an opportunity to experience the group process as a client. This experience will not be evaluated or have an impact on the student's grade. CACREP accreditation requires that students experience the group process as a part of their training. A process journal will be required from each student. In this journal, you will focus on how the group dynamics evolve in light of the readings and class presentations. It will describe your own experience and how it relates to the group process and becoming a group facilitator. Do not include any names of group members. This journal is not intended to be a report of your personal content in the group, but an opportunity to relate the group experience to the didactic portion of the group.

Final Exam (25%)

The final exam will be an in-class exam that will cover topics from Week 10 through November 30th.

Teaching Methodology & Technology:

The course format will acquaint students with information on group theory and techniques, and will provide opportunities for participation in demonstrations and group leadership training activities. Instructional strategies used in this course include PowerPoint presentations, case applications, lectures, demonstrations using video and role-playing.

Course and University Policies
Course Policies:

Following are the course policies that should be followed during all class periods, lectures, discussions, activities, presentations, and testing.

1. Sharing of personal experiences is encouraged in the classroom. However, please share personal information as examples and only to your level of comfort.
2. The instructor and the students are expected to maintain confidentiality and are asked not to discuss personal accounts shared by the instructor, students, or guest speakers outside of the classroom setting.
3. Assignments are due on the dates noted in the course syllabus. Extensions will need to be pre-approved.
4. The course syllabus is an active document that is subject to change.

Electronic Mail & Blackboard Information:

Course documents (i.e. course syllabus) and other resource information are posted on the Blackboard system (http://Blackboard.fau.edu). You should be able to access this information 24/7 from locations outside of the regular classroom. You are responsible to check Blackboard and your FAU email routinely to obtain class updates, schedule changes, and assignments. These are your vital links to the course. In-class announcements will be made to alert students to Blackboard postings. Please be sure to set your Blackboard account so that all email is automatically forwarded to your FAU net id or other Internet addresses you use. FAU Blackboard support can be reached at 297-3999.

Conceptual Framework

As a reflective decision-maker the student will demonstrate the ability to make informed decisions, exhibit ethical behavior, and provide evidence of being a capable professional through the implementation of direct and indirect guidance and counseling activities with written and verbal feedback from peers and multiple evaluators.

Attendance Policy

Counselor Education students are expected to attend every class meeting. Please notify the University Supervisor if you must miss a session. More than two absences may result in an incomplete or lower grade in the course. Attendance includes meaningful, active involvement in all class sessions, class discussions, and class activities as well as professional, ethical, conduct in class. Reasonable accommodations are made for religious observances.

Information For Students With Disabilities

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, students who require special accommodations due to a disability to properly execute coursework must register with the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) and follow all procedures. The OSD is apart of the Office of Diversity Student Services and is located in the Student Support Services (SU133). The phone number is 561-297-3880, and the TTY number is 561-297-0358.

University Honor Code

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the university mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive of the university community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. The FAU Honor Code requires a faculty member, student, or staff member to notify an instructor when there is reason to believe an academic irregularity is occurring in a course. The instructor must pursue any reasonable allegation, taking action where appropriate. The following constitutes academic irregularities:

(a) The use of notes, books or assistance from or to other students while taking an examination or working on other assignments unless specifically authorized by the instructor are defined as acts of cheating.

(b) The presentation of words or ideas from any other source as one’s own are an act defined as plagiarism.

(c) Other activities that interfere with the educational mission of the university.

For full details of the FAU Honor Code, see University Regulation 4.001 at http://www.fau.edu/regulations/chapter4/4.001_Code_of_Academic_Integrity.pdf

Hello Colleagues;

Current changes for some of the Mental Health courses are necessary to correct the graduate catalog description to a more complete and up-to-date description of the course. These changes do not affect or overlap any other courses in the College of Education. The Revised description is listed first with the current catalog description written below it. Please review and return notification of your support of these changes by the end of semester, 12/9. If you have questions don’t hesitate to contact me.

Thanks,
