FAUnewcourseUG—Revised June 2007
I. COURSE PURPOSE
Couples Therapy is a 1 credit course that applies the Generalist Intervention Model to Couples Therapy. Specifically, students are taught: 1) how to develop a case formulation and treatment plans for couples in distressed relationships; 2) apply an eclectic intervention approach (behavioral, cognitive, logo therapy, needs based, solution focused, communication and conflict resolution skills) that is ground in the latest scientific evidence for best practices. The major outcome of the class is for the student to complete an manualized couples therapy protocol with 95% compliance of a simulated case study.

II. EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
1. Analyze, assess, and critically evaluate how social work values and ethics impact couples therapy interventions as they apply to advanced levels of Community-Clinical practice.
2. Demonstrate, appraise and critically evaluate effectiveness of couples therapy interventions with individuals with diverse backgrounds, including diverse populations such as Gay, Lesbian, Haitian, Latino, African and Caribbean American, Elders, and families in south Florida;
3. Demonstrate, appraise and critically evaluate effectiveness of couples therapy interventions to reduce discrimination, oppression, and economic deprivation with populations receiving social work interventions;
4. Compare and contrast theories and apply appropriate interventions for advanced clinical-community practice in social work settings requiring couples therapy interventions;
5. Critique and apply specialized assessment and intervention skills for couples interventions for clients at advanced level in clinical-community practice;
6. Collect, analyze, and critically evaluate research issues relating to efficacy of couples therapy interventions applied in clinical-community practice;

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS
A. Required Texts:
   1. Couples in Treatment: Techniques and Approaches for Effective Practice
   2. Brief Couples Therapy Homework Planner (Practice Planners)
      Gary M. Schultheis, Bill O'Hanlon & Steffanie O'Hanlon
3. Why Marriages Succeed or Fail
John Gottman

B. Course Assignments:

Note: This is graduate school. All assignments are due on time and to be completed. You are expected to attend all classes. One unexcused absence will result in an F for the class. I have a zero tolerance for students who do not meet these requirements.

Description of Course Assignments

Assignment #1: Develop Case Formulation of case Study you have been given or develop.
Case formulation form and how to do is found in Couples in Treatment book: Chapter 1. (Weeks text) (25pts.)
(Due with your Protocol Compliance on last class).

Assignment #2: Prepare handout "Orientation to Therapy" for client.
See chapter 2 from Couples in Treatment (Weeks). (25 pts.)
(Due with Protocol Compliance at last class).

Assignment #3: Build in 3 exercises from the Brief Therapy Planner to fit into your Protocol Compliance case study. So, we should see you on your video using doing 3 different exercises with clients. (30 pts.)

Assignment #4: Simulated Couples Therapy Protocol Compliance Video-Taped for Final Class (due last class) (200 pts.)

EVALUATION CRITERIA

COURSE POLICY

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner and in a way that meets the professional standards of the social work profession. Specifically, they are expected to attend all classes, arrive to class on time and stay for the entire period. Furthermore, they are expected to have read required readings and be prepared to discuss content in class. All papers are expected at the beginning of the class on the deadline date. Failure to meet this deadline will result in the lowering of one letter grade for each day late. If a student has a disability, it is the responsibility of the student to notify the instructor so that all possible accommodations can be made.
COURSE SCHEDULE

Background to Couples Therapy

CLASS ONE
Nov 1

I. Background to Couples Therapy
   A. Types of Couples Therapy
      1. General Types
         a. Individual
         b. Couple
         c. Family systems
         d. More recently:
            Observe interactions in natural environment
      2. Specific types
         a. PTSD of returning vet
         b. distressed relationships
            (focus of this class)

II. Effectiveness of Couples Therapy
   A. Weak scientific base until 1980's lab studies.

   1. Observation Lab Studies:
      a. Dr. John Gottman 1983 - current (Univ of Ill. & Univ. of Washington)
         - predict divorce with 94% accuracy
         - 5 to 1 ratio: positive to negative
         - more than just getting along, but relationship serves to gain meaning (existential) as support for each other for hopes and dreams.
      b. Robert Levenson - Univ. of California
      c. Laura Carstensen - Stanford Univ
      d. David Olsen - Univ of Minn
         (developed PREPARE assessment)
      e. Major assessment tools developed:
         1. Dyadic Adjustment Scale (DAS, Spanier, 1976) *
            & R-DAS (Revised) (Busby et al, 1995)
         2. Kansas Marital Satisfaction Scale (KMSS)
            Schumm et al., 1983
         3. Marital Adjustment Test (MAT) Locke and Wallace, 1959
            and Revised Marital Adjustment Test (RMAT)
            (Kimmel & Van Der Veen, 1994)

* DAS is most frequently used assessment tool to identify distressed couples. In the general population, approximately 33.1% of couples will qualify as distressed when the cut-off score of 107 is used. YOU WILL be using the DAS for your case study. Of those 33.1% distressed, if in control condition, 39% will separate. John Gottman measure should be used as he has 94% accuracy rate on prediction. More costly and takes more time.
2. More recent Cognitive-Behavioral-Emotion Focused approaches:
   a. Behavior Marital Therapy (BMT)
      - meta-analysis: 83% that received BMT better than controls (55% recovered)
   b. Emotion Focused Therapy (EFT)
      - meta-analysis: 89% better than controls; (73% recovered)
   c. Individual vs. couple: which better?

D. GIM Model: Couples Therapy
   Engage>Assess>Plan>Intervene>Evaluate>Term>FU.

E. Couples Therapy Intervention We Will Use for this Class:
   1. Eclectic NEEDS BASED therapy utilizing:
      BFT – behavioral focused therapy
      Cognitive Therapy
      Solution focused therapy
      Emotion focused therapy.
      Existential therapy
   2. Couple interaction will be main unit with observation
