IRM & Microsoft Campus Agreement
 Compliance Form For Faculty/Staff Home Use
 For FY 2006-2007 (Rev 7. 7/2006)

Under the Contract agreement with Microsoft, faculty and staff are allowed to purchase and install on a single home computer Windows XP Pro OS upgrade and MS Office 2003 to be used for work related purposes. In doing so, the following provisions are agreed to:

1. The specific software is for work related, at home use, and has been purchased by your department. DO NOT Install this software on a University owned system. These systems are covered under the FAU contract with Microsoft.
2. You have read and agreed to the terms of FAU's licensing agreement with Microsoft.
3. DO NOT use the "Microsoft Campus Agreement" University cd's on your home computer.
4. The Microsoft software is being leased by FAU. This means at such time, you are no longer employed by FAU, or the Microsoft contract is cancelled or not renewed by FAU, you will be responsible to remove the software from your personal computer. This license and installation is good for one fiscal year ending July 2007.
5. By installing the software on your home computer, you agree that FAU will be held in no way responsible for any problems that may arise. This means IRM and it's staff members, including each College/Department representative will not be available to provide needed service should you have a problem. In other words, this software will NOT be supported by FAU/IRM staff on your home/personal computer.
6. Support is not being provided by Microsoft. Should you choose to contact Microsoft, it will be at your expense, not the expense of the University.
7. This agreement does not apply to University owned systems.
