The Peace, Justice and Human Rights (PJHR) Initiative is now accepting applications from individuals as affiliate faculty and staff. PJHR is a platform in the University’s Strategic Plan that continues the University’s commitment to issues of peace, social justice and human rights and seeks to promote research, teaching and community engagement on these themes. If you or someone you know would be interested in becoming involved as an affiliate, please go to our webpage at: http://www.fau.edu/pjhr/about/affiliated-faculty/index.php and complete the appropriate application form. The form is an editable word document and should be submitted via email.

Status as an affiliate allows you to participate in the governance of PJHR as well as have voice in the direction of the Initiative. Affiliate status also allows you to participate in all internal PJHR grant-making.

The deadline for the first round of applications is 11 September 2017. The PJHR Executive Committee will meet shortly thereafter, and it is anticipated that individuals will be notified no later than the end of September.

Your participation in PJHR is vital for the success of the Initiative. We are in a building phase so your suggestions, feedback and enthusiasm are welcomed as we look to sustain research programs as well as enhance our curricular offerings and continue to outreach to local and global communities.
