Responsible Authority:
Associate Vice President, Information Resource Management and Chief Information Officer

APPLICABILITY/ACCOUNTABILITY:

This policy is applicable to all users of University technology resources, including without limitation, telecommunications, networks, email, computing resources and instructional technology resources.

POLICY STATEMENT:

I. POLICY

A. Laws and regulations: All users are responsible for adhering to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations and all University regulations and policies, specifically including without limitation the University’s sexual harassment regulations and policies, those pertaining to the privacy of student records (FERPA) and the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA).

B. Copyright: All users are responsible for respecting the copyrights of others and must refrain from unauthorized distribution, downloading and use of copyrighted works.

C. Campus provided system services: Users shall not intentionally set up services that interfere with university provided services without the express written permission of the Information Resource Management department.

D. Unauthorized access: Users shall not access resources, files, and networks to which they were not granted access, or in excess of their approved access.
E. Intentional Interference: Users shall not intentionally interfere with communications or systems in such a way as to impair their ability to function or provide services as expected.

F. Capturing or monitoring communications: Users shall not capture or monitor any communications sent by, or destined for systems that are not within their responsibility without the written permission of the Information Security Officer and the Chief Information Officer.

G. Vulnerability Testing: Users shall not intentionally scan for, or exploit vulnerabilities on systems that are not under their responsibility without the written permission of the Information Security Officer and the Chief Information Officer.

H. Forged communications: Users shall not modify their communications in order to make it appear as if the communications came from another source such as through the use of anonymizing services.

I. Shared Accounts/Generic Accounts: Users are responsible for their own user accounts. The university does not provide shared accounts due to accountability requirements.

J. Network Traffic: Users are responsible for the traffic originating from their computing devices including, but not limited to, file sharing and abusive or malicious activity.

K. Security: Users are responsible for ensuring the security of their computing devices. This includes ensuring that the computing device is kept up to date with vendor supplied security patches and running personal firewall and antivirus software where applicable.

L. Personal/Financial Use: University technology resources may not be used for personal financial gain unless approved by the President or Provost. De minimus non-commercial personal use is permitted so long as such use does not violate any other provision of this policy or interfere with job responsibilities. Email blasts for personal purposes are not permitted.

M. Email Signatures: Email signatures for University business communications may only include University-related contact information. Email signatures may not include personal statements, messages, images or links, including but not limited to spiritual, political, philosophical, religious, poetic or other personal statements, messages, images or links.

II. SANCTIONS

Violations of the policies and laws described herein by an employee or student are grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination or expulsion in accordance with applicable university and the Florida Board of Governors regulations and/or collective bargaining agreements. Such disciplinary actions may also include reprimand or suspension. Violations of these policies and laws by any users are grounds for terminating their use of University technology resources and other appropriate sanctions.

Disciplinary or other action taken by the University does not preclude the possibility of criminal charges, as appropriate. The filing of criminal charges similarly does not preclude action by the University.
III. RELATED INFORMATION

Additional guidance concerning general employee and student conduct can be found in Regulation 4.007 (Student Code of Conduct), Regulation 5.012 (Employee Standards & Disciplinary Procedures), the Employee Handbook, the Faculty Handbook, and University Policy 1.9 (Fraud).
