Welcome to the Fall 2018 semester at FAU. My name is Nora Douglas, Editor-in-Chief of the Undergraduate Law Journal. We would like to invite you to our first meeting on 9/12 in Fleming Hall, Room 427 at 7 pm. There, you will meet the E-board and our faculty adviser, Dr. Arflin. If you are interested in attending, please complete this RSVP form: https://goo.gl/forms/lfLxuCriqszuvIr52

To recap: the Undergraduate Law Journal, ULJ for short, was founded to allow undergraduate students to publish their legal studies. Students can publish a variety of topics, including domestic/ international policy analysis, sociopolitical analysis, and more recently, Space law. We guide you through the entire process - everything from drafting a research proposal, to helping you correctly format your paper. It is critical that you take the initiative in your research paper's progress.

Your publication will be printed in our annual Spring Journal and also featured online on our library's database. This way, other students who are doing their own research can use your paper as a reference/ peer reviewed source. Please be sure to request membership on Owl Central so you can receive updates and important announcements.

If you have any questions, please email myself, Nora Douglas at ndouglas2014@fau.edu, or our faculty adviser, Dr. Arflin at ckimbre@fau.edu.

We will see you soon,

Nora Douglas
Editor-in-Chief, ULJ
