NEW! Lemelson Foundation-MIT "National Collegiate Student Prize Competition"
Due December 21, 2013
The Lemelson Foundation-MIT is a national collegiate student prize competition that is open to FAU faculty members, undergraduate students and graduate students to share their inventions. Local winners advance to regional competitions which in turn advance to a national/global competitive event. This program will offer a well-rounded student learning experience and four cash prizes will be awarded for a grand total of $50,000. There will also be a national media campaign and exposure to investment and business communities, including an event in June 2014 at MIT. If you have any questions please contact Dale Gregory at dgregory@cmci3.com. For more information, visit: http://web.mit.edu/invent/a-student.html

Gulf of Mexico Research Initiative Grant Competition
Pre-proposal Due January 15, 2014
Gulf of Mexico Research Initiative (GoMRI) announced that it plans to award up to $105 million to support research consortia investigating the effect, and the potential associated impact, of hydrocarbon releases on the environment and public health, as well as to develop improved spill mitigation, oil detection, characterization, and remediation technologies. The funding under this program, known as RFP-N, will support research in the Gulf of Mexico conducted by consortia of four or more institutions between 2015 and 2017. It is anticipated that each team will be funded at levels between $1 million and $7.5 million per year. For more information, visit: www.gulfresearchinitiative.org

ANNOUNCEMENTS
NEW! Frost Scholarships at Oxford University

January 10, 2014

The new Frost Scholarship Programme funds current undergraduate students from the State University System of Florida (SUSF) to study one-year, full-time Master’s courses in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics at the University of Oxford. If chosen, the applicant’s total costs for their entire first year will be covered by the programme, including living costs. The deadlines to apply start for Medical, Philosophy, and Computer Sciences on January 10, 2014. For more information, visit: http://www.ois.ac.uk/feesandfunding/prospectusgrad/scholarship/university/frost/.

NASA’s Science Mission Directorate (SMD) is engaged in the final stages of a comprehensive, agency-wide effort to develop a new strategic plan at a time when its budget is under considerable stress. SMD’s Science Plan serves to provide more detail on its four traditional science disciplines - astronomy and astrophysics, solar and space physics (also called heliophysics), planetary science, and Earth remote sensing and related activities - than is possible in the agency-wide Strategic Plan. Review of the Draft 2014 Science Mission Directorate Science Plan comments on the responsiveness of SMD’s Science Plan to the National Research Council’s guidance on key science issues and opportunities in recent NRC decadal reports. This study focuses on attention to interdisciplinary aspects and overall scientific balance; identification and exposition of important opportunities for partnerships as well as education and public outreach; and integration of technology development with the science program. The report provides detailed findings and recommendations relating to the draft Science Plan: http://www.nasa.gov/catalog.php?record_id=18609&utm_medium=etmail&utm_source=the%20national%20academies%20press&utm_campaign=nap+mail+new+12.11.13&utm_content=&utm_term=.

NEW! IIE/CIES Outreach Lecturing Fund

IIE/CIES is actively seeking institutions to host Visiting Scholars for short term campus visits. There are more than 800 Visiting Fulbright Scholars from around the world currently at higher education institutions across the United States. The Outreach Lecturing Fund (OLF) is a travel grant that would facilitate short term (two to six days) campus visits to:

- Share their specific research interests
- Speak on the history and culture of their countries
- Exchange ideas with U.S. students, faculty and community organizations
- Become better acquainted with U.S. higher education
- Create linkages between their home and host institutions

In addition to programming the visit, institutions are asked to cover the following costs for the scholar:

- Local transportation
- Lodging and Accommodations
- Meals

Supplemental funding may be available upon request to assist with lodging and meals. To view a list of Visiting Scholars currently in the US for the 2013-14 academic year, please visit: http://www.cies.org/s/1064/index.aspx?id=1064&cid=3&pgid=6&cid=41.

For more information about the OLF feel free to contact Ted Cook, program coordinator at olf@iie.org.

NEW! Fulbright Regional Network for Applied Research (NEXUS) Program

Due April 1, 2014

The Fulbright NEXUS Program will provide a platform for program participants to engage in collaborative thinking, analysis, problem-solving and multi-disciplinary research. An emphasis will be placed on climate change adaptation strategies and public policy focused research ventures that examine strategies to cope with climate variability. Up to 20 individuals from the western Hemisphere region will engage in team-based research. for more information visit: http://www.cies.org/NEXUS or contact Dylan Gipson, Senior Program Officer at dgipson@iie.org.
