

Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts & Letters
Department of Anthropology
777 Glades Road
P.O. Box 3091
Boca Raton, Florida 33431-0991

MEMORANDUM

TO: Arts and Letters Undergraduate Programs Committee

FROM: Michael Harris, Chair, Anthropology

DATE: 29 October 2018

SUBJECT: Science and Pseudoscience in Archaeology

The attached course change form seeks approval to renumber and to rename a course. A few years ago the Department of Anthropology had a course approved as Lost Tribes and Sunken Continents: Frauds, Myths, and Mysteries in Archaeology. When the course returned from the statewide numbering committee, it had a 2000-level designation. That level change did not suit the department's curricular purposes.

We seek to have the course renumbered to the 3000-level, ANT 3200, for the following reasons: 1) course materials and workload are consistent with an upper division offering and 2) as an upper division offering, the course will count in the major, within the archaeology section.

The course renaming is requested to both shorten the title significantly and to make it more focused.

Please let me know if you have any questions.