BSW Program Mission
The mission of our BSW program is to educate competent and compassionate social workers for entry-level practice and as a foundation for further professional development and growth. Our graduates possess critical thinking skills and engage in evidence-based practice, with a deep respect for human diversity and strengths, and with a desire to continue lifelong learning and professional development.

Course Description
This course will explore the Generalist Intervention Model (GIM) as it relates to generalist social work with small groups. This exploration will be set upon the foundation of contemporary social work values as well as the historic mission of social work as a profession.

Particular attention will be given to the strengths perspective, populations at risk, and social justice. Students will gain a beginning level of group work knowledge and skills from the generalist perspective that they will be able to apply at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Students will critically examine current evidenced-based theoretical foundations in both group intervention in an effort to gain understanding of the field of practice from variety of social work theories and perspectives.

Relevance to Educational Program
This course utilizes content from SOW 3232- Social Welfare Policy and Provision to deepen awareness of how social policy affects practice reality with group work. Content from the HBSE sequence is used to ground the generalist intervention model in the biopsychosocial-spiritual perspective. This course compliments SOW 4403- Research Methods in Social Work by underscoring the need for accountability in practice and critically examining theory and research. This course builds on the knowledge and skills gained in SOW 4300- Social Work Practice with Individuals, as students will use microskills and the generalist process from this course, but in the context of work with groups. This course also prepares students for the broader perspective of SOW 4343- Social Work Practice with Organizations and Communities. The practice sequence courses prepare students for the rigorous and growth-enhancing experience of the Field Placement Seminar that is the culminating experience of the BSW program. The BSW degree prepares students to pursue graduate degrees or to enter employment as beginning-level generalist practitioners.

Learning Objectives and Competencies

The Council on Social Work Education’s Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (2015) identify 9 core competencies for social work programs. The following educational objectives draw from these 9 core competencies and identify specific educational objectives for this course that relate to these competencies (each course covers some, but not necessarily all of the 9 core competencies). Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate these practice behaviors in generalist and specialist roles:

Competency 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior
- Incorporate ethical standards relating to client self-determination, informed consent, competence, cultural awareness, conflict of interest, and confidentiality when working with groups.

Competency 2: Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice
- Identify and respond to group dynamics that are related to language, norms, rituals, beliefs, and other aspects of cultural diversity.

Competency 3: Advance Human Rights and Social, Economic, and Environmental Justice
- Facilitate task groups with purposes related to advancing human rights and social, economic, and environmental justice.

Competency 4: Engage In Practice-informed Research and Research-informed Practice
- Use practice experience to inform scientific inquiry, including the use of single-system design to evaluate work with groups.

Competency 5: Engage in Policy Practice
- Address policy issues when developing a proposal for a social work group.

Competency 6: Engage with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities

Competency 7: Assess Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities
- Conduct a needs assessment to inform development of a group proposal.

Competency 8: Intervene with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities
- Apply a generalist problem-solving process when working with task, support, and counseling groups.

Competency 9: Evaluate Practice with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities
- Critically analyze, monitor, and evaluate interventions with groups.
Teaching Methodology

Students will master the practice competencies through readings, lecture, educational videos, practice simulations, and class discussion. The flow and benefit of the class experience will depend on how well each student maintains the assignments as outlined below. Emphasis will be on the student’s ability to integrate information from a variety of sources and to demonstrate social work practice skills expected of the BSW entry-level practitioner. Video recording, group proposal presentations, and group counseling sessions will be used as teaching tools to provide feedback to students. The instructor may use video recording as part of a peer teaching and evaluation process.

At all times, the instructor will endeavor to create a safe and respectful environment in the classroom. The instructor will employ an organic approach to the teaching of this course, emphasizing experiential understanding of the course content. Toward this end, the instructor expects full participation of students in role-plays, discussions, and other class exercises.

Group Proposal

Students in groups of three will write a group proposal, following the outline on Canvas. Each group will choose its group topic and diverse membership from a list distributed in class. The list will reflect examples of populations and client issues representative of South Florida.

Students will then place information on a Power Point to present to the class as if they are presenting to supervisors, funders, agency managers, etc.
Students will be ready to show their Title and Purpose Statement to instructor and class by [see course schedule for due date]: This is to include the Title of your proposed Group, and a purpose statement. The statement is one paragraph that gives evidence-based knowledge and relevance of the importance and need for this group.

Students will be ready to show their Annotated Bibliography [see course schedule for due date] utilizing scholarly resources. Each student will choose two resources and write a paragraph on the relevance of each of their chosen sources to the group’s purpose.

For example, depending on your group membership and purpose, sources might deal with developmental stage of population (children, adolescents, elderly), cultural, ethnic diversity, problems experienced by proposed group members (addiction, chronic disease, homelessness, challenges around release from prison, caregiving to Alzheimer’s patient, challenges around reunification of children with parents, new immigrants, early stage dementia, domestic violence, substance abuse, discrimination, learning disabilities, coming out in regard to sexual orientation or gender identity, grieving, etc.. Sources may also include history of oppression, statistics, data, evidence based research on topic information, theory and/ or intervention model selected. See Template on Canvas for more detailed instruction on what is included in each section.

Title Page Include your name and positions (the position can be fictional ones), your email address, potential host agency and, or potential funding sources), date submitted, and name of the group being proposed)

The PowerPoint will include the following information:
1. Introduction: Purposes and Rationale of the Proposed Group
2. Group Composition and Diversity
   - Demographics and Specifics of the Group
   - Identified issue/problem of group members deal
3. Group Time Frame and Location
4. Group Structure /Type
5. Group Leadership
6. Model of Intervention
7. Potential Obstacles and Ethical Issues
8. Evaluation of Group Outcomes
9. Budget
10. Annotated Bibliography: One slide per citation and annotation.

2. BSW Group Facilitation and Participation

Students will be divided into two to three groups that will serve as BSW support groups during the semester. In the first session, students will decide on the purpose of their group, as well as six specific topics THAT GROUP MEMBERS DECIDE ARE RELEVANT TO THE PURPOSE OF THE GROUP. (support) These topics will be the focus of each of the six group sessions. Examples of topics appropriate to the support group will be provided in class. Each student will take a turn co-facilitating a group session with another student. The sessions will follow the stages of group work introduced in text and class. The facilitators will prepare for their group by researching the topic, bringing discussion questions, handouts, and/or exercises as they deem appropriate, and resources on the topic for group members to have. Group members will provide structured feedback for each group session. The facilitators will write a process recording for the session they lead. Facilitators should include group feedback into their process recordings. Forms for feedback, evaluation, and process recordings are posted on Canvas. FACILITATOR PROCESS RECORDING IS DUE on Canvas no later than 11:59 PM the day following the group facilitation.

EVALUATION of the process recording will be based on: Comprehensiveness of the analysis; Ability to identify key issues; Level of Critical Analysis (including strengths and learning needs); Ability to integrate learning from readings and class into the group role-play and its analysis.

In order to receive a passing grade as a facilitator, each facilitator must prepare and facilitate using theory and skills introduced in course readings and lecture. Facilitator must bring in evidence-based material on the selected topic, including hand-outs for their group members, and a list of resources to empower group members to follow up on the topic (websites, community resources, articles, etc)

In order to receive a passing grade as a participant, each student must participate actively and respectfully in each session.

3. Task Group or Open 12 Step Meeting and Reflection

   Option A: Professional Association or Agency Experience and Analysis
   Select a social work/social welfare professional association that interests you, attend a meeting of that organization, and write a (3-4) page paper analyzing your experience utilizing the outline below.

   Respond to each heading item beneath the heading. Include questions and responses.

   Assignment Outline
   Viewing the association meeting through the lens of a group worker, please respond to the following items:

This model is also based on the importance of group interaction and support.

Select one twelve-step program and attend an “open” meeting of this group. In this case, “open” refers to a meeting which can be attended by someone who does not suffer from this condition. Submit a brief (3-4) page paper analyzing your experience utilizing the outline below.

Respond to each heading item beneath the heading. Include questions and responses.

It is your responsibility to read the syllabus, and know its content. This class is for you – no technology will be allowed. This is “Professional Social Work Practice” and you certainly will not use phones or computers when you are working with a client, so none may be utilized in class. PowerPoints provide the notes you need and you may supplement these with written notes. In other words, computers are not allowed in class for notetaking. Use of phones or computers will lower your grade.

Note: Late assignments will not be accepted

* In the event of a hurricane warning or other emergencies, see www.fau.edu or watch for other media announcements for updates on whether there will be a disruption in FAU classes. Class times and assignments will be modified as needed.

Professional Expectations of Student Behavior

The Florida Atlantic University School of Social Work is mandated by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) to foster and evaluate professional behavioral development for all students in the social work program. The School of Social Work also bears a responsibility to the community at large to produce fully trained professional social workers who consciously exhibit the knowledge, values, and skills of the profession of social work. The values of the profession are codified in the NASW Code of Ethics. Given this context, all students in the social work program will be expected to exhibit the following ethical standards of behavior.

1. Accountability: Attend class, arrive on time, and return from break in a timely manner.

   * Participate in group activities and assignments at a comparable level to peers.
   * Complete work in a timely fashion and according to directions provided.
   * Come to class prepared, with readings and other homework completed.

2. Respect: Treat all your peers, your instructors and all those you come in contact with, with dignity and respect at all times.

   * Listen while others are speaking.
   * Give feedback to peers in a constructive manner.
   * Approach conflict with peers or instructors in a cooperative manner.
   * Use positive and nonjudgmental language.

3. Confidentiality: Treat any personal information that you hear about a peer or an instructor as strictly confidential.

   * Maintain any information shared in class, dyads or smaller groups within that unit.
Use judgment in self-disclosing information of a very personal nature in the classroom. (Class time should not be used as therapy or treatment. If students feel the need to talk about issues they are struggling with, they may consult with their instructor to receive a referral for counseling.) Never use names of clients or disclose other identifying information in the classroom.

4. Competence: Apply yourself to all your academic pursuits with seriousness and conscientiousness, meeting all deadlines as given by your instructors. Constantly strive to improve your abilities.

Come to class with books, handouts, syllabus, and pens
Seek out appropriate support when having difficulties to ensure success in completing course requirements.
Take responsibility for the quality of completed tests and assignment.
Strive to work toward greater awareness of personal issues that may impede your effectiveness with clients.

5. Integrity: Practice honesty with yourself, your peers, and your instructors. Constantly strive to improve your abilities.

Academic: Commit yourself to learning the rules of citing other’s work properly.
Do your own work and take credit only for your own work.
Acknowledge areas where improvement is needed.
Accept and benefit from constructive feedback

Submission of Papers: Students will submit their written assignments on paper and electronically. Electronic copies will be subject to plagiarism analysis and will be kept in electronic file for future reference. A student may not submit the same paper, or essentially the same, paper, project, assignment, or finished project to an instructor, which has been submitted to another instructor, unless specifically authorized by both instructors to do so.

6. Diversity: Strive to become more open to people, ideas, and creeds that you are not familiar with. Embrace diversity.

Maintain speech free of racism, sexism, ableism, heterosexism, or stereotyping.
Exhibit a willingness to serve diverse groups of persons.
Demonstrate an understanding of how values and culture interact.

7. Communication: Strive to improve both verbal and written communication skills as these skills are used heavily in interactions with clients and peers and also with creating client records.

Demonstrate assertive communication with peers and instructors.
Practice positive, constructive, respectful and professional communications skills with peers and instructor: (body language, empathy, listening)
8. Social Justice: Strive to deepen your commitment to social justice for all populations at risk.

Demonstrate an understanding of how institutional and personal oppression impede the experience of social justice for individuals and groups.
Strive to learn about methods of empowering populations and enhancing social justice at micro, mezzo, and macro levels.

Consequences of Unacceptable Behavior

The School of Social Work may terminate a student’s participation in the program on the basis of professional non-suitability if the School’s faculty members determine that a student’s behavior has constituted a significant violation or pattern of violations of the NASW Code of Ethics, the FAU School of Social Work Student Manual, or the FAU Academic Policies and Regulations. Examples of violations that may lead to termination include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Failure to meet or maintain academic grade point requirements as established by the University and the Social Work program.
- Academic cheating, lying, or plagiarism.
- Behavior judged to be in violation of the NASW Code of Ethics.
- Failure to meet generally accepted standards of professional conduct, personal integrity, or emotional stability requisite for professional practice.
- Inappropriate or disruptive behavior toward colleagues, faculty, or staff (at the School or in the field placement).
- Consistent failure to demonstrate effective interpersonal skills necessary for forming professional relationships (for example, unable to demonstrate nonjudgmental attitude or unable to allow client self-determination).
- Documented evidence of criminal activity occurring during the course of study.

For additional university-wide policies and regulations see the FAU Catalog at http://www.fau.edu/academic/registrar/univcatalog/welcome.htm. This web site contains information on grading, incomplete grades, cheating on exams, plagiarism, expectations of student behavior, and communications devices (e.g., cell phones to be disabled during class sessions).

Class Attendance and Participation

Social work education is designed to help students prepare for professional practice. In order to model ethically appropriate practice, please treat coming to classes as you would treat working at an agency. Given the Council on Social Work Education’s requirements for professional behavior, attendance for all classes is required. More than one unexcused absence, excessive tardiness, (two or more) or patterns of leaving early (one or more) may result in a reduction of the final grade. Further, students who miss the first class will be asked to withdraw from the course and take it in a subsequent term. Students may be asked to present a written excuse from a healthcare provider for excused absences due to illness or other documentation for other circumstances. Since participating in class is an integral part of social work education, it is vital that the student be in class; therefore, even with excused absences, the student may be required to withdraw or retake the class. If a student misses more than 2 classes – whether or not there is a documented, excused absence – the student may receive a substantial decrease in the final grade.

Policy on Use of Recording Devices in the Classroom

The College for Social Design and Inquiry prohibits audio or video recording instructional activities in classrooms, laboratories, and studios without the expressed written consent of the instructor. This does not apply to students receiving services from the Office with Student Disabilities. When the instructor’s consent is given, the materials are for personal use only and are not for distribution or sale in any fashion.

Examples of University-approved reasons for absences include participating on an athletic or scholastic team, musical and theatrical performances and debate activities. It is the student's responsibility to give the instructor notice prior to any anticipated absences and within a reasonable amount of time after an unanticipated absence, ordinarily by the next scheduled class meeting. Instructors must allow each student who is absent for a University-approved reason the opportunity to make up work missed.

CODE OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the university mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other.
