6:30 pm, Living Room Theaters

FAU Boca Raton, 777 Glades Road

Refuge depicts the struggle of a 50-year-old woman in an abusive marriage and a young college professor and how their lives come together to renew their spirits and save their souls. It is a thought-provoking, soul-saving film and the fun evening will include drinks, tapas and conversation. The film includes Linda Hamilton, Chris McDonald, Chris Payne Gilbert and Lena Georgas. Written and directed by Mark Medoff, the author and director of Children of a Lesser God, Refuge was selected for showing at the PBC International Film Festival.

Jane Caputi, professor of Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies and Margarita Alarcon, legal consultant, will lead a thought-provoking discussion following the film. Seating is limited.

All proceeds support student scholarships in FAU's Center for Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies.

The Center for Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies at FAU is a strong interdisciplinary program. The underlying goal of the program is to understand the broad range of women's and men's experiences that reflect class, race, ethnicity, disability, sexual orientation, age and the interconnections that shape these experiences in specific ways. The program prepares students to think critically about the political, social, economic, and historical forces that shape lives and cultures, along with women's and men's responses through activism and advocacy for gender and sexual justice.
