Madrid, Spain

Summer Term II
May 11-June 21, 2014

Academic Program: This program is offered by the Department of Languages, Linguistics and Comparative Literature in conjunction with MADRID_CREAción and Estudio Sampere. Students benefit from a project-based cultural studies approach that will enhance their Spanish language skills through a combination of tailored and intensive language and culture courses. Students will experience the Madrileño lifestyle while alternating excursions, courses, time spent with their host family, as well as time dedicated to individual assignments dealing with Spanish history, arts and culture.

Eligibility Requirements: Program is open to undergraduate and graduate students with a GPA of 2.5/3.0 or higher.

Course Descriptions:
SPW 4957/COM 4957/SPW 6908 Madrid, CREAción (3 Credit Hours): Students will learn the history of the city and become familiar with its geography through the study of films, but you will also explore how the city is represented in films from 1975 through the present by artists who are making Madrid a new artistic center connecting Europe with Latin America, as well as different regions of Spain. Students will work on a personal project in relation to one aspect of the course and in collaboration with one artist of their choice.

SPN 2952/SPN 4957 Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced Spanish Language (4 Credit Hours) Intensive Spanish language courses are offered at Estudio Sampere. The student’s Spanish proficiency will be tested upon arrival. Advanced students of Spanish will have the option to sign up for Contemporary Spanish Culture and Society, Introduction to Spanish History, Introduction to Spanish Literature, Survey of Spanish Literature, Introduction to Spanish Theater, Writing and Composition, Introduction to Translation, Business Spanish, and Medical and Nursing Spanish. A minimum of 4 students per class is needed to offer the course. Courses are taught in Spanish.

DIS credit available on a case by case basis.
