

Asian Studies Certificate Program

Requirements: 15 credits in courses from the list below that focus on Asia. No more than 9 of these credits may be earned in a single discipline (ASH/HBR/ANT etc.). For example, a student could apply HBR 1120 and HBR 1121 for 8 credits toward the certificate. Then such a student would need to fulfill the rest of the requirements through content courses. These content courses include those from Anthropology, Communications, English, History, Languages, Linguistics and Comparative Literatures, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and Women’s Studies. If you took a course that is not on this list but feel would fulfill the requirement, please fill it in at the bottom.
