

SEASON 2024/25

FINE ARTS & CULTURAL EVENTS

FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY

Dorothy F. Schmidt
College of Arts and Letters

This year promises to be an exciting one with expanded programming across the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters. I invite you to join us at the lectures, exhibitions, performances and concerts that enrich our community with learning and entertainment, always informed by the latest research and creative inquiries that only a public research university like Florida

Atlantic can offer. Among other exciting developments, we will celebrate the 10th Anniversary of Theatre Lab and break ground on the new Kurt and Marilyn Wallach Holocaust and Jewish Studies building. I could not be more proud of our college's faculty, students and staff that make this all happen. Thank you for your crucial support. We could not do it without you, our patrons!

Babylon Superman: Works by John Hancock

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY PUBLIC SPACE

On View: July 8 – September 21, 2024

Opening Reception: August 29, 2024, 4:30-8:30 pm

This summer, printmaking students in the Department of Visual Arts & Art History at Florida Atlantic worked closely with resident artist John Hancock, one of the Amazing Hancock Bros. The dynamic duo comprises of John and Charles Hancock, who are masters in woodcuts, silkscreen, and mixed-media printing. During his residency, students had the opportunity to learn techniques and skills in concept developments and execution while also exploring narratives for expression. In Babylon Superman, Hancock is providing his audience with "nocturnal transmissions via kosmik vibrations, dead poets, scotch, and chili dawgs."

Common Ground: Imagined Landscapes Through Design

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY

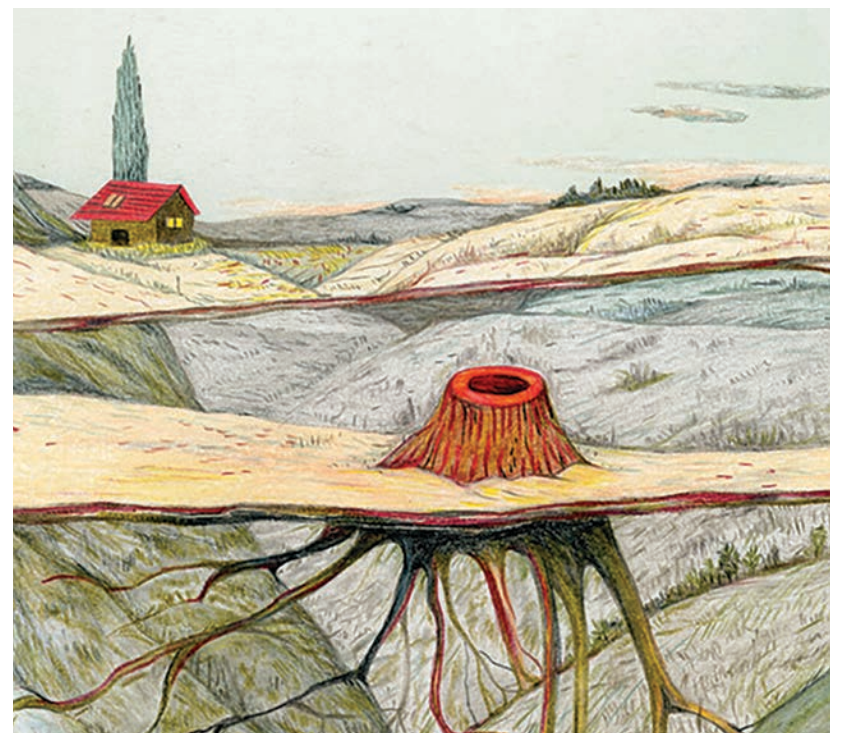

On View: August 1 – September 21, 2024

Opening Reception: August 29, 2024, 4:30-8:30 pm

Landscapes inherently possess tension when contrasted with human activity. Curated in collaboration with the Shenkar Design Research Center, Common Ground explores three iconic landscapes of Israel as seen by designers. The selected artists lead us on a journey through time and space, juxtaposing contemporary and historical artworks in the Israeli grove, city, and desert. Each habitat invites us to explore the balance between humans and nature through tactile textile works, photography, and graphic design.

Rock, Paper, Chisel: Mixed Media Treasures from the FAU Collection

RITTER ART GALLERY

On View: August 1 - September 15, 2024

Closing Reception: September 12, 2024, 4:30-8:30 pm

Showcasing the intriguing variety of FAU's art collection, the Ritter Art Gallery unveils some of its more unusual holdings in Rock, Paper, Chisel. This eclectic mix of contemporary fine art, including glass, fiber, ceramics, painting, sculptures and prints is typically kept in restricted storage due to its fragility. This curatorial endeavor is part of a broader conservation initiative to evaluate and digitize the university's collection, aiming to enhance public accessibility through online platforms.

Political Circus 2024 Curated by Jane Caputi & Lisa Rockford

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY AND PUBLIC SPACE

On View: October 5 – November 24, 2024

Opening Reception: October 10, 2024, 4:30-8:30 pm

Interdisciplinary Panel Discussion:

October 22, 2024, 11 am (visit fau.edu/galleries for a complete schedule of craft workshops and artist talks)

Join the Political Circus! Expect pageantry, cheap shots, branding, bombast, combative opinion, conflicting patriotic pride, and flags of every stripe. Based on Jane Caputi's, PhD, multi-year collection of presidential election merchandise, this exhibition examines the interplay of political media, consumerism, and patriotism. Presidential pop paraphernalia acts as a cultural fun house mirror, reflecting and reshaping America. Curator Lisa Rockford juxtaposes Caputi's mass-produced election materials documenting trends in American elections with artistic "craftivism" and flag iconography for insight into media in election times.

The NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY PUBLIC SPACE

On View: December 1 – 13, 2024

In recognition of World AIDS Day, the University Galleries is proud to join Compass Community Center and its partners in displaying six panels from the AIDS Memorial Quilt. Considered the largest community art project in history, the 35-year old collective quilt commemorates those lost to HIV/AIDS with over 50,000 hand-sewn individual panels. Inspired by placards resembling a patchwork quilt created during Cleve Jones' historic 1985 candlelight march in San Francisco, the NAMES Project was first exhibited on the National Mall in Washington, D.C. in 1987.

Liberation Posters

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY

On View: January 5 – February 19, 2025

Opening Reception: January 22, 2025, 6:30 pm

The U.S. soldiers who helped defeat Nazi Germany and liberate the concentration camps were among the first eyewitnesses to the Holocaust. Remembering their stories of freedom inspires us to promote human dignity and confront hatred whenever and wherever it occurs. January 27, 2025, International Holocaust Day of Remembrance, marks 80 years since the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau. The Liberation exhibit, brought to the FAU Galleries from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in collaboration with FAU's Arthur and Emalie Gutterman Family Center for Holocaust and Human Rights Education, presents 21 panels of historical images leading to this historic liberation day.

South Florida Cultural Consortium: Mangroves to Masterpieces

SCHMIDT CENTER GALLERY

On View: January 16 – March 12, 2025

Opening Reception: January 16, 2025, 4:30-8:30 pm

The South Florida Cultural Consortium is a regional initiative in support of the arts in Broward, Martin, Miami-Dade, Monroe, and Palm Beach counties. The Consortium works to foster cooperation across the South Florida region to help develop and promote the work of artists and the audiences that they serve. Each year, more than 300 artists who live and work throughout the five counties submit their applications for consideration to the SFCC's Grant for Visual and Media Artists. Curated by Veronique Cote from the 2024 winner of this prestigious fellowship, Mangroves to Masterpieces transports the viewer from the perceived notion that Florida is solely a tourist destination, into a deeper understanding of the cultures, contradictions, values, identities, and environments that make our state so interesting.

Dancing with Devils: Latin American Mask Traditions

RITTER ART GALLERY

On View: January 23 – February 22, 2025

Celebration Reception: January 23, 2025, 4:30-8:30 pm

Diablada festivals are among the most widely recognized celebrations in Latin America, with transatlantic roots tracing back to 15th century dances of the Moors and the Christians in the Iberian Peninsula. In this celebration, festive devils dance, play, laugh at authority, provoke, and taunt spectators dressed as multifaceted masked figures of Latin America's past and present. This traveling exhibition comes to us from the Ohio State's Center for Latin American Studies along with documentary photographs of the Diablada de Pillaro (Devils Dance of Pillaro, Ecuador) by photojournalist Leonardo Carrizo (OSU School of Communications). Also on exhibit are holdings from FAU's Department of Anthropology and University Art Collection, highlighting the University's research.

Art of Science

RITTER ART GALLERY

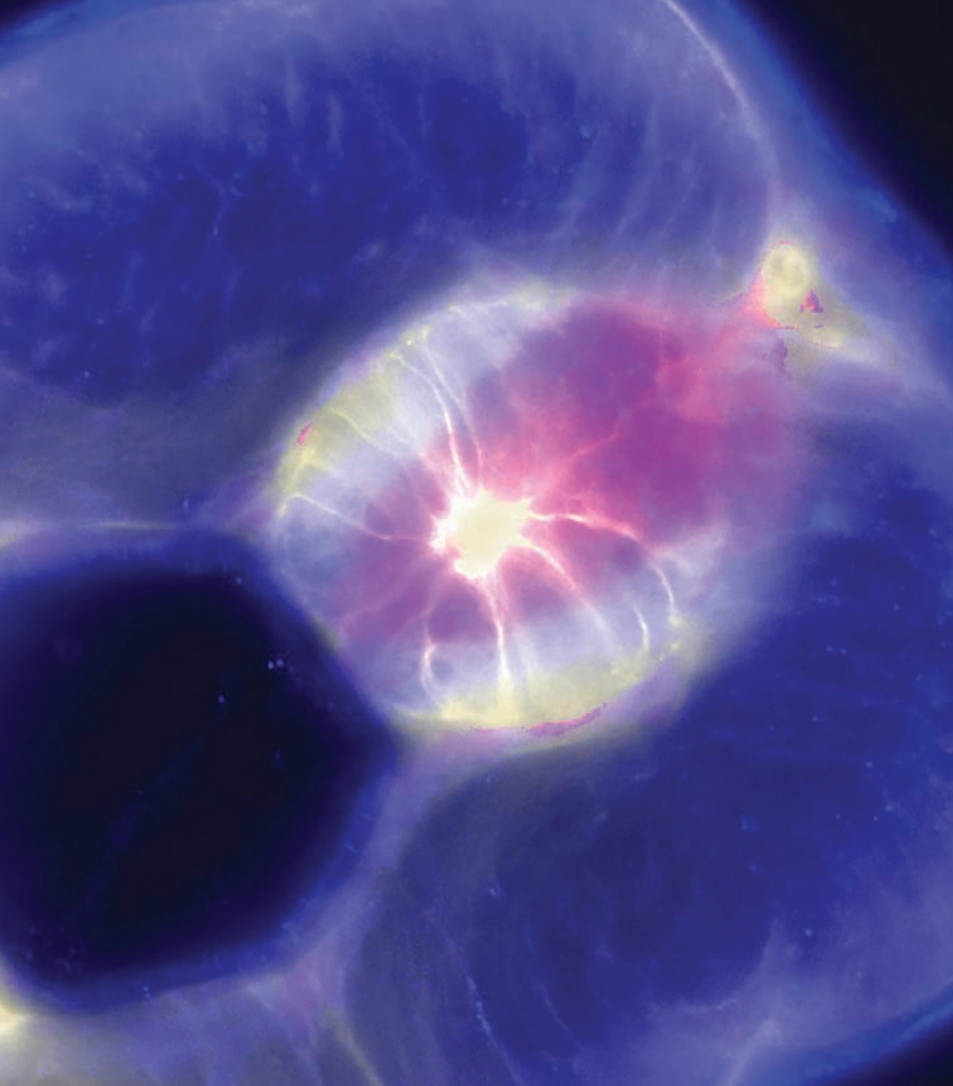

On View: March 10 – April 2, 2025

Celebration Reception: March 13, 2025, 4:30-8:30 pm

Museum Education Program

Since 2001, the University Galleries’ Museum Education Program has trained FAU students in interactive educational theories and techniques related to teaching and learning in museum environments. The program serves children through schools, afterschool programs, and an ongoing relationship with the Boys & Girls Clubs of Palm Beach County. Museum Education Programs are made possible in part by the Kaye Arts Integration Endowment.

Family Art Days

Family Art Days offer children and their caretakers the opportunity to participate in fun and interactive tours of exhibitions and create their very own works of art. The goal of these free activities is to engage audiences in the ideas and techniques of artmaking by inspiring visitors to create works of art together, connecting their creative art making to artworks viewed and discussed in the University Galleries.

Visit the galleries website and join our mailing and social media lists to know about the next event.

Firebringer

Music and Lyrics by Meredith Stepien and Mark Swiderski;
Book by Nick Lang, Matt Lang, and Brian Holden
Arranged by Clark Baxtresser and Pierce Siebers

A musical set at the dawn of humanity. One tribe of cave-people survives the many trials of prehistoric life under the wise leadership of the Peacemaker. She taught her people to express themselves, rather than bashing each other's heads with rocks and eating each other's babies. But one member of the tribe doesn't seem to fit in. Always trying to invent things to make life easier... for herself. While out hatching her latest scheme, she stumbles upon the most important discovery in history. One that will pit her tribe against wooly mammoths, saber-toothed tigers, and change the world forever. She'll travel from omega to alpha and become... the Firebringer!

Radium Girls

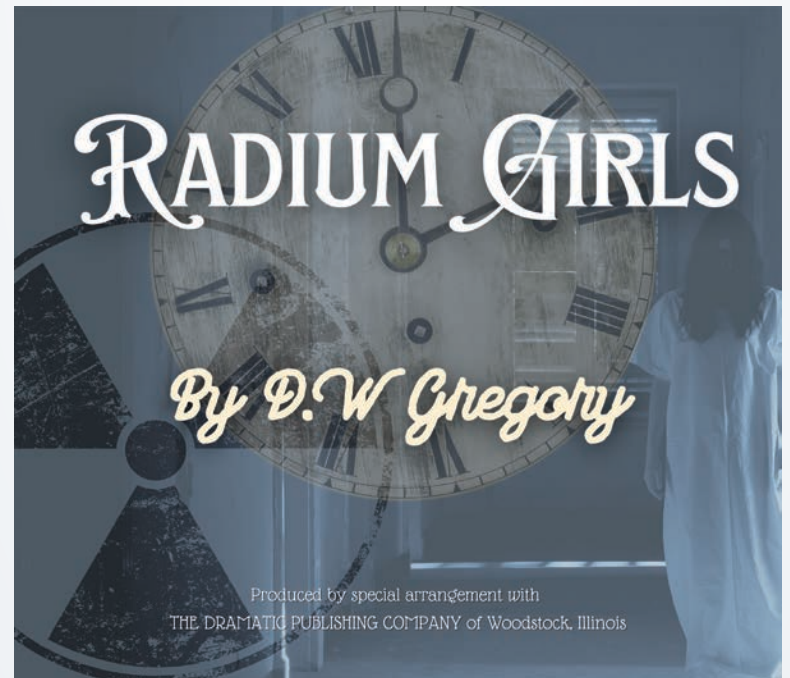

By D.W. Gregory

In the Roaring Twenties, the U.S. Radium Corporation offers young women coveted, well-paying jobs, painting watch dials with glow-in-the-dark radium. These "lucky" workers discover their job comes with a devastating cost: the horrifying effects of radium poisoning. Follow these courageous women as they face off against corporate greed and denial. Inspired by real-life heroines who dared to challenge a system determined to thwart them at every turn, Radium Girls shines a light on the resilience and determination of those who fight.

1776

Music and Lyrics by Sherman Edwards
Book by Peter Stone

A musical set in the scorching summer of 1776, as the nation's spirits are soaring high, ready to burst into song and declare independence! But hold on to your tricorne hats because our founding fathers are about to embark on the musical journey of a lifetime in 1776. From soaring ballads to rousing ensemble numbers, 1776 is a showstopper with a heart of gold and a soundtrack that'll have you humming long after the curtains close. So come along and witness the birth of a nation in the most tuneful way possible, where the challenges of the past harmonize with the struggles of today, reminding us all that the pursuit of freedom is a melody worth singing!

THEATRE AND DANCE 2024-25

The Frankenstein Project*

By E.M. Lewis

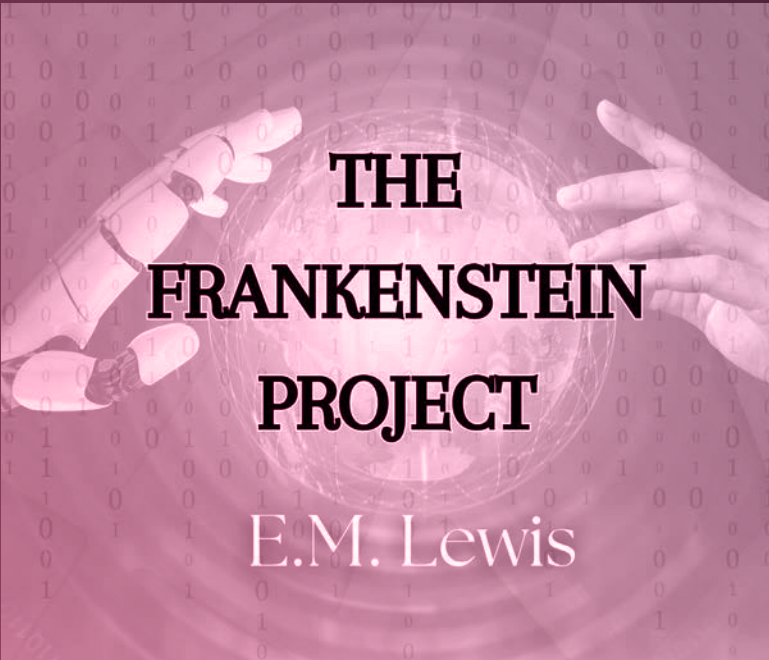

A fully-realized workshop production of a new play. In 1816, Mary Shelley grieves her lost child and conjures a creature that looks a lot like her beloved husband. In the present, Mary Lattimore tries to write a paper about Mary Shelley's book for her high school English class but gets distracted by the new friendship she begins with an AI robot her father has created and brought home. The Frankenstein Project is about the monsters we battle, the monsters we create, and the monsters we (sometimes) are.

The Little Mermaid

A new adaptation by Jacqueline Goldfinger
Heckscher Theatre for Families Production
A Southeastern Premiere | Directed by Matt Stabile

While riding out a hurricane in their home, a family invests in the wonder and joy of shared storytelling to create their own version of the classic Hans Christian Anderson fable. This new adaptation uses comedy, music, dance, and a little magic to bring the timeless story of love and adventure to life. This once cautionary tale about a “disobedient girl” gets turned on its head and encourages young people to trust their inner voice and be unafraid to pursue their own path.

The Last Yiddish Speaker by Deborah Zoe Laufer

A National New Play Network Rolling World Premiere

Directed by Deborah Zoe Laufer

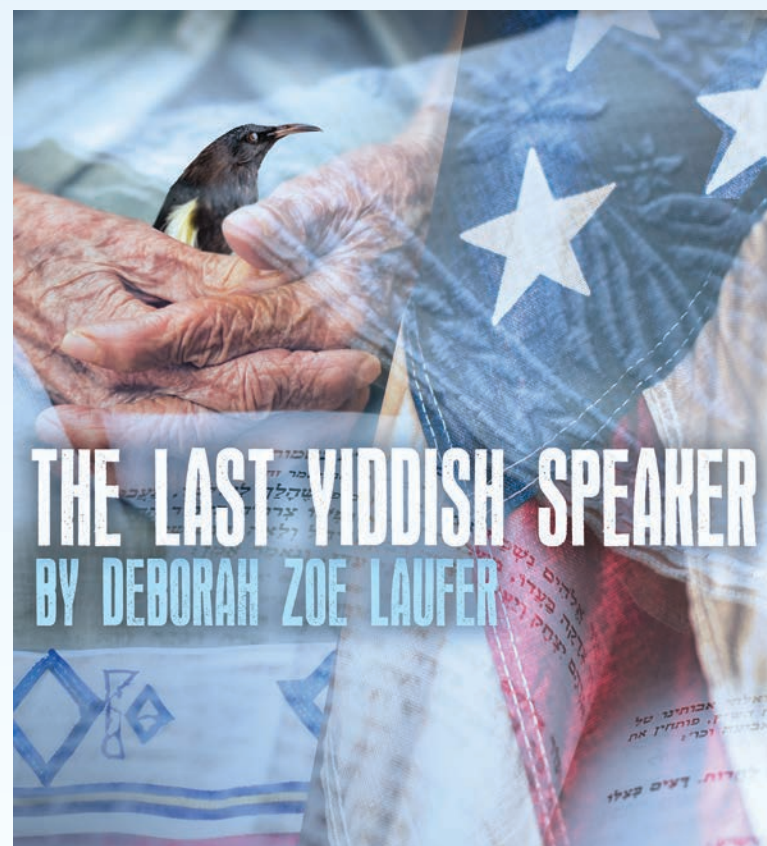

Executive Producers: Mandell Weiss Charitable Trust,
Linda and Joe Satz-Trustees

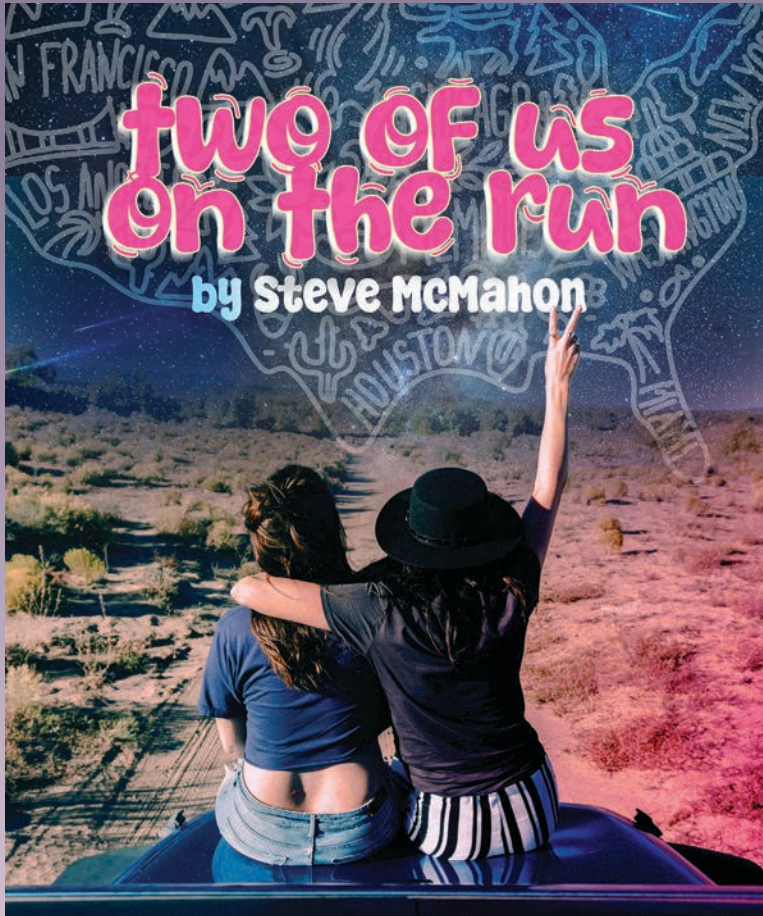

In the years following a successful January 6th insurrection, a white supremacist regime has come into power. Paul and his teenage daughter, Sarah, live under the radar in a small town upstate as Christian-passing, despite being Jews who fled New York City. When an ancient Yiddish-speaking woman arrives on their doorstep, Paul and Sarah are forced to decide between fleeing again or fighting for their faith, their heritage and their identity. Deborah Zoe Laufer returns for her fourth production and second world premiere. After its first public reading at our 2022 New Play Festival, the play enjoyed a massively successful production at Interact Theatre in Philadelphia last spring and returns home to The Lab this fall!

two of us on the run by Steve McMahon

A World Premiere | Directed by Margaret M. Ledford
Executive Producer: Richard Carpenito

J and C are bored small town American teenage girls who go on the run to find the 'real' America and themselves. They procrastinate and fantasize about the best way to run away from home, debate the fundamentals of feminism and what to do once they've left home and hit the road. On the open road, reality and fantasy blur. They rob banks, make bombs and discuss sexual, class and gender politics. They meet Brian, an enigmatic bartender, leading to a conclusion where they might fall in love, might commit acts of terror, might kill people, or might just breathe in the night air and decide to go home. This funny, moving, and fast-paced script by a local playwright toys with time, space, and reality while speaking to the difficulties and dangers of being a young woman in America today.

The Impossible Task of Today by Jeff Bower

A World Premiere | Directed by Matt Stabile
Executive Producers: Diane & John Dalsimer &
The David Kimmel Foundation

Five years removed from tragedy, Jack, an agoraphobic online teacher has perfected his video game playing skills but severely neglected his hygiene, mental health, and dwindling number of personal relationships. When the grocery delivery guy is one of your best friends, something's got to give, and with the arrival of a home gym, everything will change. Jack truly believes it...even if no one else does. We close out our 24-25 season with this stunning world premiere - another hit from our 2022 New Play Festival. The script uses humor and hope to explore issues of gun violence, mental health, and the dangers of social media - all the while reminding us that the only way to move through difficult times is together.

CENTER FOR THE FUTURE MIND

Exploring Ultimate Questions About the Future of Intelligence

MINDFEST 2025

The conference will explore the latest thinking on the nature of mind, the future of artificial intelligence and more. Organized by Susan Schneider, PhD, William F. Dietrich Distinguished Professor of Philosophy in the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters.

March 12 -13, 2025

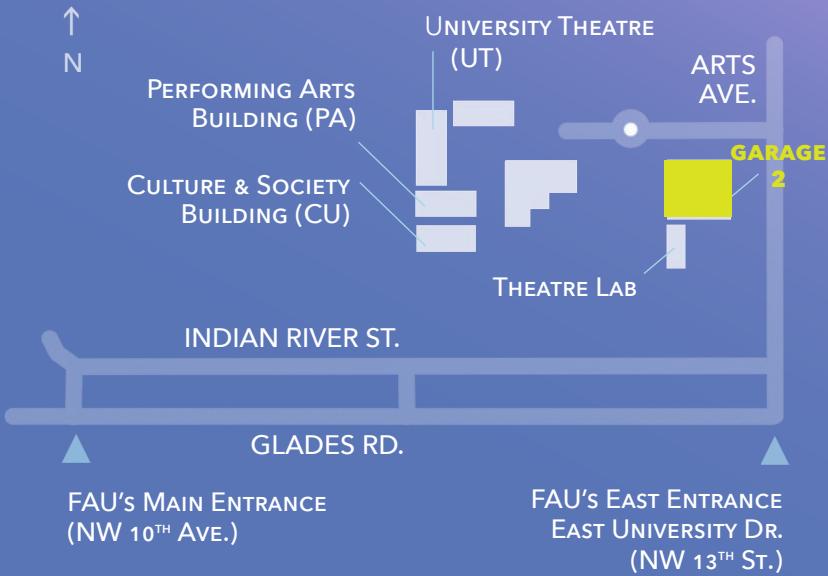

Live Oak Pavilion, Florida Atlantic, Boca Raton

Susan Schneider, Ph.D., writes about the fundamental nature of the self and mind, especially from the vantage point of issues in philosophy of mind, artificial intelligence (AI), astrobiology, metaphysics and cognitive science. Schneider is also a distinguished scholar at the Library of Congress and NASA. The topics she has written about most recently include the mind-body problem, super intelligent AI, the nature of life, the mathematical nature of physics and whether the mind is a program.

To learn more about Mindfest 2025 sponsorship opportunities, contact Laurie Carney at lcarney@fau.edu. More information at fau.edu/future-mind.
