STUDY THE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF NON- VIOLENCE

This course explores the philosophical tradition of non-violence as it emerged through Jainism and other belief systems centered on non-violence. Designed to investigate the crossroads of religion and advocacy of non-violence, this course will present the students an opportunity to think about how faith practice can provide a comprehensive moral theory. Students will critically examine the views of foundational thinkers of nonviolent practice and explore how their views find the philosophical basis in religion.
