Chair Levine noted there will be some adjustments to the bylaws that they will vote on at the next meeting. He welcomed new trustees Pierce Kennamer and Robert Flippo.

Trustee Emeritus Max Simonson was recognized by the board for his work as Student Body President the past year.

The trustees spoke about the retreat place and timing. Trustee Cane suggested that the legwork be done before the retreat. He would like common set of things, like a budget to present at the retreat. He noted the last retreat was awkward as there was more presentation and less conversation. He would like the switch that this year.

Trustee Dunn suggested they speak about the strategic plan and where it stands. She asked if there needs to be a steering committee for the retreat.

Trustee Feingold thought a pre-dinner meeting the day before the meeting would be helpful as packing it all into one day is too much.

Trustee Cane followed up with what are we trying to do with the strategic plan. Is the board looking at 2-3 years, 5 or 10 years? He thought have a scope of how long they want to look at would be helpful. Chair Levine replied that the vision is 20 years out, but the action is this year. He used FAU Health as an example. If we can set the partnerships up and have everyone going in the same direction, then year after year there will be more definable action and it will be quite significant in 20 years. Then with the help of the state legislature, and we have objectives that are important to the state, then that would allow us more money to make those steps to accomplish those longer-term goals.

V. President’s Update
President Kelly opened that when a new president started at Clemson when he was there, he promised the board that they would be in the top 20 in the US News rankings. They were 78th at the time. By the time he took the job at FAU, they were No. 20 in the rankings. He noted that it can be done, but it takes resources. He said the journey is arduous, but it can be done.

President Kelly and Athletic Director Brian went to their first American Athletic Conference meeting. He said they were focused on bowl games, where we are recruiting from and strategy based.

President Kelly noted the changes taking place in the administration. Provost Danilowicz is now a president (at Radford). Nursing dean Safiya George is chairing the search committee. Dr. Michele Hawkins has stepped up to become interim provost. Chris Delisio, VP Advancement, has done a phenomenal job in the short time has been at FAU. Enrollment Management is going back under the Provost’s Office.

FAU had 59 people accept the early retirement program. We have a new dean in the College of Science. Robert Stackman has taken over at the Jupiter Campus and the Jupiter Life Science Initiative.
