OPEN TO COLLEGE OF EDUCATION DOCTORAL STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Correa has extensive experience providing training in the area of children with disabilities (birth to age five) and their families. She has worked with young children and their families in a variety of early intervention programs. She has over 80 published book chapters and articles in professional journals and is the co-author of a textbook titled Interactive Teaming: Enhancing Programs for Students with Special Needs (4th Edition).

This event will feature Vivian I. Correa, Ph.D., Professor Emerita in the Department of Special Education and Child Development at the University of North Carolina. Correa's areas of expertise include early childhood special education, bilingual/special education, multicultural education, unified teacher education and working with Latinx families.

In this series, invited scholars will engage in a facilitated discussion with doctoral students about varied aspects of academia. The format is informal, allowing for questions and answers about working and thriving in academia.
