RSVP REQUIRED

This event will feature Christopher Rivera, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Special Education at East Carolina University (ECU). His research is focused on working with students with significant cognitive disabilities, who are also English learners (e.g., emerging bilinguals), and utilizing technology to enhance the academic and functional skills of these students.

OPEN TO COLLEGE OF EDUCATION DOCTORAL STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Christopher Rivera, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Special Education at East Carolina University (ECU). He currently serves as the regional director of North Carolina's New Teacher Support Program and is Associate Chair of the Department of Special Education, Foundations, and Research at ECU.

In this series, invited scholars will engage in a facilitated discussion with doctoral students about varied aspects of academia. The format is informal, allowing for question and answers about working and thriving in academia.
