MY WORK CITED by OTHER AUTHORS (Nationally and Internationally)

I started in late January 2015 posting my own writings and conference material, etc., in www.researchgate.net. I feel as an Eminent Scholar I should showcase my writing and let the other scholars in the field provide feedback as to the value of my work by their citation of my work. I have a lot more to post, but in general there is very good acceptance of my work.

I am posting my own writings and conference material, etc., in www.researchgate.net. Since I have lived many lives and have many interests my followers are not all from education. The following list was pulled (March 8, 2015) of the people that have cited my works recently. A large number of my works have passed the 100 citations marks.

As of January 17,2016, 955 people have already read my works on Researchgate.net and 100 have cited my work. This does not include all the works cited in 2015 or those since 2016. [Snapshot in time]
