This form should be used by the student. The student indicated on the 2025-2026 FAFSA that they had an amount of college grants, scholarships, or AmeriCorps benefits reported as income to the IRS in 2023. Most students should leave this question blank because most scholarships and grants are not taxable, unless those award amounts exceed the total amount the student paid for tuition, fees, books, supplies, and required equipment. Typically, this isn't the same amount as the adjusted gross income. For more information, visit the Federal Student Aid help page.

The student will not receive a financial aid disbursement until this form is submitted and reviewed. The reported amount of taxable scholarships and grants may impact a student's financial aid eligibility and result in a modification to the student's financial aid offer.
