WOMEN, GENDER AND SEXUALITY STUDIES

MASTER OF ARTS (M.A.)

(Minimum of 30-36 credits required, depending upon track)

The Master of Arts degree in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies (WGSS) offers students the opportunity to gain cross-disciplinary, advanced knowledge of the impact of gender in diverse areas of life. The degree helps prepare students to enter a variety of professions for which a sophisticated knowledge of gender issues is considered a desirable employment qualification.

Students who receive the Master of Arts in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies are prepared for doctoral work in Women's Studies and related programs, such as the Florida Atlantic University doctorate in Comparative Studies.

Admission Requirements

1. The student must have a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution, preferably with a concentration (major, minor or certificate) in Women's Studies. Applicants without appropriate work in Women's Studies may be admitted on the condition that additional coursework in Women's Studies is completed in addition to the requirements for the M.A. degree.
2. Applicants must have a minimum 3.0 GPA for the last 60 undergraduate credits attempted. Applications are accepted for the fall and spring terms only.
3. In addition to the University application, students must complete the application specific to Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies. This application includes the following requirements:
 - a. An essay addressing the student's interest in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies graduate work, talent or experience that will contribute to this academic program and educational and professional goals;
 - b. Three letters of recommendation using the form that accompanies the application (at least two letters from professors);
 - c. A writing sample of 12-20 pages of researched writing representing the student's best academic work and critical thinking;
 - d. If interested, the application for a graduate assistantship.

Admission Requirements for Candidacy

1. A student seeking the M.A. in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies must file an application for candidacy with the director of the program after completion of 18 credits of graduate coursework.
2. Along with the candidacy application, a student in the thesis or internship option should submit a thesis or internship proposal.
3. The student should have an advisory committee of three faculty. A maximum of two faculty associates may be on the committee. The advisory committee will serve as the thesis committee.

Degree Options and Requirements

Requirements: Students must receive a grade of "B" or better in all courses.

As the M.A. in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies is an interdisciplinary degree, accepted courses for the M.A. will be posted prior to registration. All 6000-level courses with a WST prefix are acceptable, along with many other courses from other departments. Please check with the program office before registering to learn if a course has been approved. Refer to the Center for Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies website.
