CATALOG DESCRIPTION:

~~A survey of the fundamental application of technology to educational Administration including basic knowledge of hardware and software for word processing, database management, telecommunications and electronic spreadsheets.~~

NEW CATALOG DESCRIPTION

A survey of the fundamental applications of technology for instructional delivery, digital citizenship, current technology issues and trends.

SUPPLEMENTAL DESCRIPTION

Today's technology revolution promises ever greater computing power and functionality, and yet its quickly changing nature can make it difficult to stay abreast of exactly what today's technology offers. Simultaneously, some "older" (in relative terms) technologies remain in current use due to their powerful affordances to collect and represent data. In this course, we will investigate and apply a number of both "new" and "older" technologies to basic tasks, with the goal of understanding how these technologies can be used in both administrative and classroom settings. We will also discuss in more general terms the nature and impact of today's technology revolution, and think about its issues and implications.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Describe technology standards for leaders
2. Create an accessible presentation on Digital Citizenship
3. Use FAU's Libraries online software to create an annotated bibliography on One-to-One classroom computing
4. Discuss pedagogically sound ways to integrate technology into teaching that don't electronically duplicate tradition teaching tools

5. Explore the Technology Integration Matrix and create a tool kit to help teacher integrating technology into teaching
6. Explore Learning Management Systems (LMS)
7. Explore and Join Communities of Practice
8. Describe the nature and type of today's technology revolution and the impact such changes are having on communication.

POLICY ON MAKEUP TESTS, LATE WORK, AND INCOMPLETES

Late work is accepted only under circumstances not under control of the student. Late work will be accepted no later than a week after the original due date and can typically earn no more than 50% of the points available. It is the student's responsibility to stay aware of all assignment due dates and to successfully submit all required work in a timely manner. Please note that any unavailability of Canvas immediately prior to an assigned due date is not an acceptable reason for late submission. Please ensure that all work is submitted in a timely manner, and it is STRONGLY recommended that you submit work in advance of due dates/times so as to limit any potential difficulties with system downtime (for maintenance, etc.).

SPECIAL COURSE REQUIREMENTS: (LiveText, field work, etc.)

Each College of Education student is required to have a functional LiveText account per COE policy. Assignments for this course will be submitted in Canvas, but your instructor may also ask you to submit one or more assignments in LiveText. Please check the course web site for information regarding any requirements regarding LiveText for the class. LiveText information

CLASSROOM ETIQUETTE POLICY

Etiquette is an important factor in any classroom setting. In an online class, etiquette may actually be a greater consideration due to the fact that much communication is enabled through written e-mails, blog postings, and so on. Written words carry all types of connotations (both intended and unintended) and therefore it is essential that you craft all written communication in a manner that is professional, polite, and clearly and accurately worded. Here are some basic ground rules for written communication: Core Rules of Netiquette

ATTENDANCE POLICY

This class is completely online with strong support in our learning management system. It will require most learners at least 8- 12 hours a week. Please log into the learning management system several times every week

DISABILITIES POLICY STATEMENT

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act (ADAAA), students who require reasonable accommodations due to a disability to properly execute coursework must register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and follow all SAS procedures. SAS has offices across three of FAU's campuses – Boca Raton, Davie and Jupiter – however disability services are available for students on all campuses. For more information, please visit the SAS website at www.fau.edu/sas/

COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES (CAPS) CENTER

Life as a university student can be challenging physically, mentally and emotionally. Students who find stress negatively affecting their ability to achieve academic or personal goals may wish to consider utilizing FAU's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) Center. CAPS provides FAU students a range of services – individual counseling, support meetings, and psychiatric services, to name a few – offered to help improve and maintain emotional well-being. For more information, go to <http://www.fau.edu/counseling/>

CODE OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the university mission to provide a high-quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive of the university community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. Harsh penalties are associated with academic dishonesty. For more information, see University Regulation 4.001.

STUDENT ACADEMIC GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES FOR GRADE REVIEWS (4.002)

The grade review procedures, which were once included in the old Honor Code, are now in a separate University Regulation (4.002) and can be found at:

http://www.fau.edu/regulations/chapter4/4.002\_Student\_Academic\_Grievance\_Procedures\_for\_Grade\_Reviews.pdf

REQUIRED TEXT - MATERIALS

No printed textbook is required for this course. Online resources will be used in support of assignment completion. Please see the course web site for both required readings and supplemental resources. In addition to an active FAU Canvas, you will also need a free Google account and a free online Microsoft account. You will also need access to specific software, all of are available as a FAU student.

Download Office 365 here <https://www.fau.edu/oit/getoffice365/>

SUPPLEMENTAL/RECOMMEDED READINGS

None

SUGGESTED RESOURCES

Please see the Canvas course shell for an update list of suggested resources.

ONLINE COURSE REQUIREMENTS

This is an online course that requires significant time management and self-paced learning skills. The instructor will provide assistance and insight into assignments as part of the overall course experience, but you will be required to manage your own time, carefully read all announcements and instructor postings, listen to support screencasts, attend all required online activities/meetings, and participate in ongoing synchronous and asynchronous communication with the instructor and other class members. It is essential that you have a working computer with a microphone, reliable Internet access, the software to read and complete assignments (primarily Microsoft Office and Acrobat Reader), and use a browser that is compatible with the current version of the FAU Canvas system.

ONLINE LEARNING HELP

In the online environment, there is always a possibility of technical issues (e.g., lost connection, hardware or software failure). Many of these can be resolved relatively quickly, but if you wait to the last minute before due dates, the chances of these glitches affecting your success are greatly increased. Please plan appropriately. Should a problem occur, it is essential you take immediate action to document the issue so your instructors can verify and take appropriate action regarding a resolution. Please take the following steps should a problem occur:

1. If you can, make a Print Screen of the monitor when the problem occurred. Save the Print Screen as a .jpg file.
2. Complete a Help Desk ticket at <http://www.fau.edu/helpdesk> or Call 561-297-3999. Make sure you complete the form entirely and give a full description of your problem so the Help Desk staff will have the pertinent information in order to assist you properly. This includes:
  - o Select "Canvas (Student)" for the Ticket Type.
  - o Input the Course ID.
  - o In the Summary/Additional Details section, include your operating system, Internet browser, and Internet service provider (ISP).
  - o Attach the Print Screen file, if available.
3. Send an email within Canvas to your instructor to notify him/her of the problem. Include all pertinent information of the incident (2b-d above).

4. If you do not have access to Canvas, send an email to your instructor with all pertinent information of the incident (2b-d above).
5. If you do not have access to a computer, call your instructor with all pertinent information of the incident. If he/she is not available, make sure you leave a detailed message.
6. If you do not hear back from the Help Desk or your instructor within a timely manner (48 hours), it is your responsibility to follow up with the appropriate person until a resolution is obtained.

TEACHING METHODOLOGIES

- Online Synchronous and Asynchronous Lecture (as needed)
- Online Discussion, canvas e-mail
- Course facilitated through the FAU Canvas system

COMPLETING COURSE REQUIREMENTS – CAREFULLY READ AND FOLLOW

1. The course is divided into five sections. Assignments, readings, and activities are associated with each section, and have specific due dates. You may work at your own pace in each section, but you are required to complete each section and its activities/assignments no later than the specified due date.
2. The major assignments have details describing assignment requirements. Assignments will also often have a screencasts that provides additional assignment information. Before attempting to complete a deliverable, you should first carefully read and reflect on all these materials so that you have a clear understanding of the requirements for each Assignment.
3. A Discussion Board for assignment questions is provided called “Questions, Comments and Concerns” should be used to ask questions regarding assignments. The instructor will attempt to reply to all posts within one business day of the original posting whenever possible. You should check the board regularly and also sign yourself up to automatically receive e-mail notification anytime a posting is made to the Discussion Board.
4. You are required to complete/interact with a variety of discussion boards, surveys, or similar endeavors as part of your participation grade in this course.
5. Assignments are due by the end of the day and should be submitted ONLY through Canvas.
6. Although every effort is made to avoid mistakes, errors do occur, and sometimes a course schedule requires adjustment. The instructor reserves the right to revise this schedule as needed, posting any changes on the course Canvas site. It is the student’s responsibility to keep apprised of any schedule revisions.
7. In case of unintended discrepancy, the most current version of the course Syllabus is the authoritative source of information on assignment due dates.
