WHC Associate Professor Releases Volume on the Religious Uses of Mobile Apps

Jacqueline H. Fewkes, Ph.D., associate professor of anthropology at the Harriet L. Wilkes Honors College recently edited, Anthropological Perspectives on the Religious Uses of Mobile Apps.

The edited volume deploys digital ethnography in varied contexts to explore the cultural roles of mobile apps that focus on religious practice and communities, as well as those used for religious purposes (whether or not they were originally developed for that purpose).

The edited volume deploys digital ethnography in varied contexts to explore the cultural roles of mobile apps that focus on religious practice and communities, as well as those used for religious purposes (whether or not they were originally developed for that purpose).

Combining analyses of local contexts with insights and methods from the global subfield of digital anthropology, the contributors here recognize the complex ways that in-app and on-ground worlds interact in a wide range of communities and traditions. While some of the case studies emphasize the cultural significance of use in local contexts and relationships to pre-existing knowledge networks and/or non-digital relationships of power, others explore the globalizing and democratizing influences of mobile apps as communication technologies.

From Catholic confession apps to Jewish Kaddish assistance apps and Muslim halal food apps, readers will see how religious-themed mobile apps create complex sites for potential new forms of religious expression, worship, discussion, and practices.

The FAU Jupiter newsletter is sent every Friday to *only* FAU Jupiter faculty and staff, FAU Communications Network and various FAU subscribers.

On the last Friday of every month, we send out an external newsletter to FAU Jupiter faculty/staff and the community to highlight the campus and your accomplishments. You may see previous news shared during this time.

Please add all events to localist. Please select John D MacArthur Campus at Jupiter as the group. This will then populate onto the FAU Jupiter Website.
