HISTORIC SEASON

The 2022-23 FAU men's basketball team had the best season in program history; a school-record 35 wins; the nation's best record (35-4); a 20-game winning streak; a perfect 17-0 record at home; winning both the Conference USA regular season and tournament championships; and making it to the Final Four of the NCAA Tournament.

National Recognition as Leader in Student Success

The Association of Public and Land-grant Universities named FAU the winner of its 2022 Degree Completion Award. The annual award works to identify, recognize and reward institutions that employ innovative approaches to improve degree completion while ensuring educational quality.

Military Friendly

FAU earned the 2022-23 Military Friendly® School "Category: Tier 2 Research Institution" designation based on the expansion of services and spaces offered by FAU's Military and Veterans Student Success Center.

Hispanic-Serving Institution

FAU has been designated as a Hispanic-Serving Institution by the U.S. Department of Education since 2017.

Rising in the Rankings

FAU moved up in the U.S. News & World Report list of "Top Public Schools," to No. 132 from No. 140 in the 2022-23 ranking of the nation's best universities. This marks the largest rise out of all public universities in the state of Florida.

A.D. Henderson University School Ranked Top 3 in Nation

The A.D. Henderson University School has been ranked No. 2 Best Public Elementary School, No. 2 Best Public Middle School and No. 2 Best High School in Florida by Niche, the largest website for researching public and private K-12 schools. Henderson is also ranked No. 3 Best Public Elementary School in the nation in the publication's 2023 rankings.

Top Minority Degree Producer

Diverse: Issues In Higher Education magazine ranked FAU in the top 20 for graduating African American students with bachelor's degrees in all disciplines combined in its list of top 100 minority degree producers among American undergraduate and graduate institutions of higher education.

Carnegie Classification

FAU has received the Carnegie Community Engagement Classification, an elective designation that indicates institutional commitment to community engagement. The award highlights the exceptional work of FAU's world-class outreach programs and partnerships.

Partnering with Public and Private Medical Leaders

Officially formed in June 2022, the FAU Health Network collaborates with partners in Broward, Palm Beach and Martin counties to connect the local health care community, ensuring the recruitment and retention of skilled health care professionals.

Neuroscience and Biomedical Opportunities

FAU and the Max Planck Florida Institute for Neuroscience have created a new joint neuroscience program. The accelerated academic dual-degree program offers solution-oriented research and innovative discovery opportunities from the high school, undergraduate, Ph.D. – and now – M.D. levels.

Creating the Future Economy

The College of Business dramatically improved its standing among the top 50 undergraduate programs for entrepreneurship studies, according to The Princeton Review and Entrepreneur magazine.

FAU Health Network

FAU Health Network is a community of leaders in education, healthcare, science, and business, with a mission to advance healthcare delivery in South Florida. The network is committed to providing premier academic patient care, serving the residents of Palm Beach, Broward, Martin, and Saint Lucie counties.

Lifetime Education

The FAU Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is among the largest of its kind in the United States.

New Rivalries Await in The American

FAU will join The American Athletic Conference in 2023, giving the university opportunity for exposure in four of the top 10, seven of the top 25, and 12 of the top 51 Nielsen media markets. The Owls will face four teams from Texas, two from North Carolina and one each from Louisiana, Tennessee and Alabama, in addition to first-time conference opponents in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Oklahoma and Kansas.

New Holocaust and Jewish Studies Building

In September 2022, FAU ceremoniously broke ground on the Kurt and Marilyn Wallach Holocaust and Jewish Studies Building, which is designed to serve as a hub for Holocaust and Jewish studies, human rights' education, and leadership training.

Historic Gift for Medical Education

FAU received an estate pledge of $28 million from John and Ann Wood to support scholarships for students enrolled in the Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine. This is the largest scholarship gift in FAU history and the largest known scholarship gift to a Florida public university's medical school.

Tops in Diplomacy

The Leon Charney Diplomacy Program received two Outstanding Delegation and nine Best Delegate in Committee awards, finishing first out of 207 competing universities at the April 2022 diplomacy competition in New York. FAU also placed first at the Washington, D.C. competition in November 2021, making it the first time in the competition's 95-year history that the same university won the national award at the Washington and New York competitions in the same academic year.

Taking Life Science to New Heights

The new 58,000-square-foot, $35 million Neuroscience Research Building on the John D. MacArthur campus in Jupiter is a hub for the life sciences. The building is home to the Stiles-Nicholson Brain Institute and allows for expansion of collaborative research in neuroscience and other STEM areas.

Schmidt Family Complex for Academic and Athletic Excellence

This 166,000-square-foot facility is a national model of academic excellence in athletics, designed to attract the best coaches and student-athletes. It is also home to the Avron B. Fogelman Sports Museum, a permanent exhibit featuring more than 1,200 artifacts from the former Kansas City Royals owner and longtime Boca Raton resident's private collection.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE SANDBOX

The Rubin and Cindy Gruber Sandbox within the S.E. Wimberly Library on the Boca Raton campus is home to the Charles E. Schmidt College of Science's Machine Perception and Cognitive Robotics Lab.
