

UNIVERSITY NOTICE

Florida Atlantic University (FAU) is committed to creating a safe learning and working environment where all members of the University community adhere to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 as amended (“Title IX”). Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex and includes protections from sexual harassment and sexual violence under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. Accordingly, the Compliance Office in conjunction with the Office of Equity, Inclusion and Compliance will send out a mandatory online Title IX training course on January 16, 2018 so that employees (staff, faculty, administrators, student-employees, etc.) better understand how to prevent and report sex discrimination, harassment or assault. This course will also help you recognize and respond to reports of sexual misconduct in accordance with applicable laws and university policies or regulations. The course continues FAU’s commitment to promoting compliance and awareness about Title IX. Specifically, the online training applies to employees who are likely to receive information about sexual harassment or sexual misconduct.

It is imperative that all FAU employees and affiliates understand their obligation under Title IX and FAU Regulation 5.010, Anti-Discrimination & Anti-Harassment. To that end, this training supports FAU’s on-going commitment to Title IX compliance and awareness.

The training will be forwarded to you through Canvas. The completion of this course is required by March 11, 2018.
