Start Career Planning Early

Career Planning should start early in a student's college program. Students in the junior year of college should have a clearly defined career goal. It is not enough to take courses that one enjoys and finds easy to pass, but a student must follow a discipline that prepares the student for the world of work or a career in society.

The student's faculty advisor should be asked the question—What degrees must I earn to succeed in the field of study? A college degree does not entitle the graduate to a position in a particular field specialization. The large number of College graduates each year makes it increasingly difficult for the average performer to find employment in his field of study. A college degree should enable a student to understand and enjoy the world he or she lives in and to make a greater contribution as a citizen than he or she could make without the college degree. It does not entitle him to a particular position after graduation.

A student in doubt as to his or her interest in various vocational fields should take the Strong Interest Bank and the Kuder Occupational Interest Survey at the Testing and Evaluation Center, basement of the Administration Building.

Hogeland B. Barcalow, Director of Student Placement.

California and Hawaii interview on Campus for candidates to teach in their states. The Placement Office distributes, posts and publishes dates of interviewing schedules by employers. Students must register and sign up in advance for these schedules.

Many employers visit the Campus only once each year. Heavy schedules are set-up in October, November, December, February, March and April. Where do you go after graduation should be answered early in your program at the University.

KICK OFF YOUR FUTURE

Career Readiness Program

At Florida Atlantic, we are committed to not only preparing students for success in college but also creating pathways to careers that extend beyond graduation. Kick Off Your Future is an early key step in that journey—helping students connect with valuable resources and explore career options. Within this module, you will find many benefits, including:

- ✦ A better understanding of your personal values, interests, and skills—and how they connect to academic majors and careers.
- ✦ Insights into academic and career readiness skills needed for today's workforce.
- ✦ Awareness of employment opportunities and wage prospects for different majors.
- ✦ Access to critical career readiness resources at the Florida Atlantic Career Center.

OWLS-ON-THE-JOB JOB SHADOW PROGRAM

Would you like to examine a career field of interest closely?

Participate in the FAU Career Center's Owls-on-the-Job Shadow Program!

Job shadows are short-term opportunities to learn more about an organization and can be a great way to network with hiring employers!

Benefits of Job Shadowing:

Get a glimpse into a job's perks and challenges.

Test out possible careers.

Have a safe place to ask career questions.

Explore other career interests with a potential employer.

Build professional connections.

Learn about an organization's culture.

The Owls-on-the-Job Shadow Program is offered in the Fall and Spring Semesters. Schedule an appointment with an Internship Specialist at fau.joinhandshake.com to get the application process started. Any Questions? Contact us at intern@fau.edu or 561-297-3533.
