September 19, 2023

MEMORANDUM

TO:       Deans, Department Chairs, and School Directors

FROM:    Russ Ivy, Ph.D.
         Interim Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs

SUBJECT: Religious Accommodations for Students and Faculty

Florida Atlantic University prohibits discrimination on the basis of religion and respects the religious differences of our students, faculty and staff. The University is committed to fostering an inclusive, accessible, and diverse intellectual and cultural campus experience (University Regulation 7.008, Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment).

STUDENTS
In accordance with regulations of the Florida Board of Governors and Florida law, students have the right to reasonable accommodations from the University in order to observe religious practices and beliefs with regard to admissions, registration, class attendance, and the scheduling of examinations, and work assignments. The details of this policy, as it pertains to FAU, may be found in the University Catalog and University Regulation 2.007, Religious Observances.

Any student who feels aggrieved regarding religious accommodations file a complaint with the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX. Any such complaint will follow the University's established complaint processing procedures regarding allegations of discrimination.

Please be sure that your faculty are aware of this obligation and are reminded to honor such requests as required by law and in the spirit of understanding and respect which they deserve.

FACULTY
Faculty must also be provided a reasonable accommodation, such as annual or unpaid leave, for a faculty member's sincerely held religious belief, unless the university believes such an accommodation would create an undue hardship.

Faculty should advise their supervisors at least 30 days in advance of their need for religious accommodation and identify what alternative arrangements they have made for coverage of their assignment (i.e., arrangements they have made for their classes). Factors to be considered in providing reasonable accommodations are the nature and impact of the accommodation requested, the duration of the request, and the alternative arrangements suggested.
Any employee who believes that they have not been accommodated appropriately should contact the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX.

cc: Academic Affairs

Bobby Brown, Executive Director and Title IX Coordinator

Office of Civil Rights and Title IX