Homepage Hierarchy

When planning out your homepage keep these few things in mind:

- User Experience
  Think about your target audience and why they are using your website and what they want out of it.

- Keep it Simple
  You do not want to overwhelm your audience with too much information. Only have the essential information that will grab their attention. Secondary information can be placed on subpages.

- Make it Readable
  Studies have shown that users scan websites. Keep your information short but effective, and or break up text with bullet points, headers, etc.

- See it as a “Call to Action”
  Think about your “call to action section” this will explain the purpose of your whole site/department. If you want to implement a carousel, make sure the images are relevant to your website. (NOTE carousels cannot slide automatically due to accessibility reasons)

Below are some examples of Homepages:

- College of Social Work and Criminal Justice | Florida Atlantic University (fau.edu)
- Office of the President | Florida Atlantic University (fau.edu)
- Board of Trustees | Florida Atlantic University (fau.edu)