

The University Faculty Senate recommends and supports the provision of health insurance benefits to the graduate students employed as graduate assistants, graduate teaching assistants and graduate research assistants by the university.