Program Name Accounting Program (ACCG or OACG)	<input type="checkbox"/> New Program <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Change Program	Effective Date (TERM & YEAR) Spring 2020
Please explain the requested change(s) and offer rationale below or on an attachment Add ACG3131 Intermediate Theory 1 to list of International Perspective courses in the College of Business core classes. ACG3131 covers the international reporting environment and discusses regulators' initiatives to converge US Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). To the extent that US GAAP and IFRS treatment is similar, the discussion of US GAAP pertains to international firms. Further, important differences between the two sets of standards are also discussed, as they pertain to material covered in the course. Please see the attached ACG3131 syllabus for more information (specifically, the Course Description and Learning Objectives). Designating ACG3131 as an International Perspective course will allow accounting students to also take ISM3011 Management Information Systems, which is a required course of all business majors, except accounting majors.
