Required Readings/Course Materials

Access to the AMA Case Study- Amazon Prime Student, which requires membership in the American Marketing Association.

Special Course Requirements

You must be a member of the American Marketing Association.

Course Description

This course is designed for students who wish to further develop their marketing and business skills by participating in a specific case-based competition sponsored and/or administered by a national or regional professional organization. These skills include gathering and analyzing research and applying it to key strategic decisions (i.e., critical thinking), learning to work with groups, meeting deadlines, making presentations, and thinking creatively.

The purpose of this course is to work, as a team, on the American Marketing Association case competition. The client for the 2021-22 competition is Amazon Prime Student. A comprehensive marketing plan will be developed for the product. It will be important to utilize both secondary and primary research in developing the proposed plan. It is critical that the research support and guide the strategies. The evaluative criteria include 1) the situational analysis, 2) marketing research, 3) target marketing, objectives, and positioning strategy, 4) integrated marketing communications plan and 5) grammar and punctuation.

Course Prerequisites and Credit Hours

MAR 3023 or permission of the instructor, junior standing, open to all business majors

Course Objectives/Student Learning Outcomes

After completing this course students will be able to:

- Conceive, develop, and execute a complete marketing campaign for an advertiser.
- Recognize ethical issues as they relate to organizations and their social responsibility.
- Integrate basic functional competencies to evaluate information critically and make organizational decisions.
- Utilize basic information and technology tools such as presentation software, library resources, research databases, and/or the Internet.
- Analyze and interpret basic quantitative information such as share of market.
- Apply critical thinking skills to basic business situations.

Purpose:

To provide a written case entry that follows the case competition rules. If Florida Atlantic University is chosen as a finalist, we will present at the AMA International Collegiate Conference. There will be a limited number of presenters, but everyone is invited to participate in getting the PowerPoint presentation ready. It is also encouraged that if we are chosen to be one of the finalists that all members of the class will work to adjust the presentation based on judges' comments as well as prepare and practice for the oral presentation. This is contingent on us being one of the finalists. Presenters will be determined by desire to present, participation level in project, and presentation ability.

The structure of this class is team driven. While there are some lectures, the class consists primarily of team meetings in which the professor will not be part of the group discussion. Most of the work is done outside of the scheduled class meeting. Class time is used to address issues and determine strategy related to conducting research for the case assignment and analyzing the case. Because the grade in the course is based on "teamwork," everyone must pull his or her share of the project. In teamwork the final project is only as good as the weakest link.

Course Grading Scale

The minimum percentages needed to obtain each grade level are: A= 93-100%, A- = 90-92.99%, B+ = 87-89.99%, B = 83-86.99%, B- = 80-82.99%, C+ = 77-79.99%, C = 73-76.99%, C- = 70-72.99%, D+ = 67-69.99%, D = 63-69.99%, D- = 60-62.99%, F= 0-59.99%

Course Evaluation Method/Performance Expectations

Students will:

- Participate in a professional manner in all aspects of the course.
- Attend meetings outside of class time as necessary
 - Weekly meetings will be set for alternating group leaders
- Respect each other and the Professor in all dialogues

Assignments:

- a) Situation Analysis/Company research

ASSESSMENTS

Peer Evaluations

Twice during the semester and once at the end-of-semester, students will evaluate one another's contribution to the development of the Marketing Plan. The purpose of this exercise is to provide feedback to the instructor as to the quantity and quality of effort put forth by fellow classmates. Peer evaluations are used by the instructor in the determination of final grades. An evaluation form will be provided during the semester. Students must also evaluate themselves using the same form. Failure to complete peer evaluation forms may result in the lowering of a student's individual grade.

Instructor Evaluations

Based upon observed and documented behaviors, the instructor will evaluate each student's level of contribution toward the development of the Marketing Plan.

Assignments

The assignments correspond to four of the seven sections of the marketing plan. Additional assignments throughout the semester are possible and depend upon the unique needs of each marketing case. While everyone is expected to contribute equitably to the development of the Marketing Plan, the individual assignments are designed to increase accountability and ensure high quality work.

1) Company Research – Each student will research the company providing historical background, product mix, marketing/sales mix, and current company news. Students are expected to document all sources using complete citations and provide sufficiently detailed summaries of reviewed material.

Data should be analyzed and not simply reported.

2) Secondary Research – Each student will be assigned one or more sections of the Situation Analysis to research using online and offline sources. Students are expected to document all sources using complete citations and provide sufficiently detailed summaries of reviewed material.

Data should be analyzed and not simply reported.

3) Primary Research – Each student will contribute to the development and execution of original research such as an online survey, interviews, observations, focus groups or field research. This may include authoring survey questions, analyzing survey results, interviewing subjects, taking field notes, etc.

4) Marketing Objectives – Based on a thorough analysis of the SWOT, each student will be required to develop and articulate at least three marketing objectives. Marketing objectives must be in line with the guidelines set forth in the case and be written in such a manner that they are measurable, quantifiable, and timely.

5) Marketing Strategy & IMC – Building upon the research and marketing objectives, each student is to develop at least one element, or tactic, of the marketing strategy such as the social media strategy, promotions, event marketing, public relations, etc. Each tactic must be sufficiently described, and its associated revenues and costs identified. Its corresponding media strategy and method of evaluation should also be detailed.

GROUP ASSESSMENT

There is one key deliverable that is required for the case competition: the Marketing Plan.

While the class will meet one time a week, most work is done outside the classroom.

The Marketing Plan is the marketing and communication document that is ultimately submitted to AMA for judging. A marketing plan usually includes the following components and requires extensive primary and secondary research:

1) Situation Analysis	(10%)
2) Peer Evaluation (2 per semester x 5points)	(10%)
3) Market Research	(20%)
4) Target Marketing, Objectives, and Positioning Strategy	(20%)
5) Marketing Tactics	(20%)
6) Metrics /Evaluation	(10%)
7) Presentation	(10%)

If Florida Atlantic University is selected to be a finalist in the case competition, it will be necessary to present the PowerPoint Marketing Plan Presentation to the AMA judges at the Collegiate Conference in Chicago (depending on COVID-19 restrictions).

Furthermore, presenters must be members of AMA and listed as a team member on the official 'Case Competition Interest Form' that is submitted to AMA headquarters during the Fall semester.

Students are responsible for arranging to make up work missed because of legitimate class absence, such as illness, family emergencies, military obligation, court-imposed legal obligations or participation in university-approved activities. Examples of University-approved reasons for absences include participating on an athletic or scholastic team, musical and theatrical performances, and debate activities. It is the student's responsibility to give the instructor notice prior to any anticipated absences and within a reasonable amount of time after an unanticipated absence, ordinarily by the next scheduled class meeting. Selected University and College Policies

Code of Academic Integrity Policy Statement

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the university mission to provide a high-quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. The assignment of the "I" grade is at the discretion of the instructor but is allowed only if the student is passing the course.

The specific time required to make up an incomplete grade is at the discretion of the instructor. However, the College of Business policy on the resolution of incomplete grades requires that all work required to satisfy an incomplete ("I") grade must be completed within a period of time not exceeding one calendar year from the assignment of the incomplete grade.
