Lauren,

The Marketing Department supports the development of the new course in industrial/organizational psychology. Most universities have similar organizational social sciences courses in both sociology and psychology, which are complimentary to business offerings.

Sincerely,

Marc

Subject: Support for New Course

Hello,

The Psychology department wants to offer Industrial/Organizational Psychology. At the UUPC meeting they asked me to get support from you. I attached the syllabus and new course proposal. Please let me know if you support the course and if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Lauren
