Hi Michael & Michael. I saw no conflicts with the course. Just to be safe, I ran it by the CSD faculty. They also have no concerns.

Good luck with your proposal.

Subject: Linguistics Course Proposal

Hi Dale,

I'm the chair of UPC in the Department of Languages, Linguistics and Comparative Literature, and am writing on behalf of my colleague, Mike Hamilton (cc'd). Mike has proposed adding an RI-designation to our course LIN 4430 Morphology & Syntax. UUPC approved the proposal today, but the rep from the College of Education asked that I inform you of the proposal because there may be a similar course in your department.

I've attached the proposal and syllabus for your consideration. I want to clarify that even though this is a new course proposal, LIN 4430 Morphology & Syntax itself is not a new course. We're proposing LIN 4430 with RI designation as a new course so that we have the option in the future to offer the course with or without the RI designation.

If you have any questions or comments, please let me know. If you have none, please also let me know so I may include that with the course proposal as it goes before Steering.

Cheers,
