ATAS Degree Support

From Craig Burnett <burnettc@fau.edu>

Date Mon 2/16/2026 2:13 PM

To Kevin Wagner <kwagne15@fau.edu>

Kevin,

Political Science is a strong supporter of the ATAS degree proposal. AI is rapidly changing how politics and society operate, including how people get information, how government decisions are made, and how public opinion forms. Political science has clear contributions to this work: understanding institutions, power, regulation, political behavior, and the democratic and equity implications of new technologies. The program's interdisciplinary design is also important. AI develops quickly and raises technical, legal, ethical, and social questions at the same time. A cross-disciplinary approach will help students and faculty analyze these issues more effectively and produce research and training that match the pace and complexity of the problem.

Best,

Craig

Cc Christopher Robe <crobe@fau.edu>; Neil Santaniello <nsantane@fau.edu>

Hi Kevin...

SCMS has discussed the new ATAS BA program several times over past faculty meetings with most recently the February 9th meeting. There was positive discussion and support for the degree, as SCMS is contributing several courses. I'm cc'ing our UUPC rep to the college, Chris Robe, and the SCMS Associate Director, Neil Santaniello for the record.
