Hi William,

I checked with our faculty, and we don't have any concerns!

Subject: Sociology BA concentration proposal

Dear Dr. Skinner-Osei,

The Department of Sociology is developing a new concentration in Families, Youth & the Life Course for our Sociology Majors. The concentration does not involve any new courses or requirements - these are guidelines for our Sociology majors who are interested in families, aging, and education to specialize their Sociology degree electives.

Would you please review to determine whether there is any conflict between the proposed concentration and your existing programs? I think this is probably in the clear since it's within-major and no new courses, but it's always best to check.

Thank you,
Will
